JUTTE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE BY SHOOTING IN THE HEAD

tic City.

HE IS LIKELY TO RECOVER

Worry Over Business and Lawsuits Thought to Have Been the Cause.

MANY IMPORTANT INTERESTS

In Which He Has Figured Prominently—New Cumberland Indictment Which Caused Him Much Annoyance Is Not to Be Pressed.

William C. Jutte, of Pittsburg, well known in this city as former principal stockholder in the East Liverpool Bridge company, attempted suicide in Atlantic City Saturday, shooting himself in the head in his room at a hotel. He is expected to recover. Worry over business and over an indictment for forgery, of which charge he says he is entirely innocent, are supposed to have led to the attempted suicide.

Mr. Jutte is 42 years old, married, and has long been prominent in Pittsburg business and financial circles.

William C. Jutte has for years been one of the largest independent coal operators in this section. He is also interested in the river contracting business, being connected with the Jutte & Foley company, bridge builders, who have constructed a number of bridges in this section. Lately he became involved in litigation in connection with coal deals and bridge ventures. In the courts of West Virginia a criminal proceeding is pending against him, and in the Allegheny county courts he is defendant in equity proceedings brought against him by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company.

Mr. Jutte is said to be the promoter of the Peoples' Coal company, C. Jutte & Co. and the head of the Pittsburg and Castle Shannon Coal company. He is reputed to be worth $1,000,000. His ventures in the coal business are the cause of the suits against him in the local courts.

When the coal combine was formed in 1899 Mr. Jutte, it is said, signed an agreement transferring his plants to the concern for about $600,000. It is also claimed by the combine, in its bill filed in court, that he was not to engage in the coal business again in competition. This agreement, it is alleged, has been violated. The court is asked to restrain him from continuing and also to assess damages by having an accounting rendered. The amount claimed is not stated.

The Peoples' Coal company has been a thorn in the side of the combine, as it is generally conceded by coal men that it will soon become a formidable rival. It shipped the first coal on the present rise. In addition Mr. Jutte controls seven-eighths of the Pittsburg and Castle Shannon railroad and its mines in Baldwin township. These mines have a direct outlet into the heart of the city, and as soon as the West Side belt railroad is completed will be able to unload coal into barges at Sawmill run. This will give an immense advantage to the Jutte interests in securing the immense trade of the mills lining the banks of the rivers, as the great expense incurred in towing coal from the pools will be avoided. All these points were covered by the coal combine in its bill of equity.

The most serious charge against Mr. Jutte, however, is in the county courts at New Cumberland, W. Va., where he is under indictment on a charge of forgery. About $21,000 is involved. The suit grows out of a transaction in East Liverpool bridge stock. At the time Jutte secured the stock in 1900, it appears that John Shrader executed a release of judgment for $21,000. Early in the present year it is charged that Henry G. Davis, an attorney for Jutte, appeared before the county clerk with a writing that appeared to be an assignment of this judgment. It had no second name inserted, and the attention of the attorney was called to this fact. He took the paper and returned after some time with the name of W. S. Smoot inserted as the party from whom the judgment was assigned. Mr. Shrader claims he never executed an assignment of judgment and that the name of Smoot was inserted without his knowledge or consent, and that the word "released" was erased and the word "assigned" substituted. John Shrader, in discussing Jutte's attempt at suicide, said this morning that Mr. Jutte could not have been longer worried over his troubles growing out of the bridge litigation with East Liverpool people.

Mr. Shrader said that Mr. Jutte was now out of all of this, having no further interests in the bridge. Regarding the indictment at New Cumberland an amicable settlement had been made and no prosecution would be made.

DRIVER THROWN OUT

BY A RUNAWAY TEAM AND HIS ARM BROKEN.

John Vaughn Seriously Injured, Horses Having Taken Fright.

John Vaughn, driver for the Milligan Hardware Co., was seriously injured in a runaway this morning. Vaughn was driving into the alley near the store when the horses became frightened and started up the alley at a rapid rate. In crossing the gutter two registers, which were in the wagon, overturned and fell to the ground.

The noise frightened the horses still more and they made a sudden lunge, throwing the driver to the ground. Vaughn alighted in front of the wagon and two wheels passed over his right arm. The member was broken at a point between the wrist and the elbow.

The horses ran to the corner of the Midway, where the Bell telephone people had a large excavation, the loose earth from which had been piled high in the alley.

In an endeavor to avoid colliding with this team ran into a pole surrounded by a pile of bricks and were stopped.

W. S. Cook and a number of other men were working in the hole and lost no time in getting out. The horses were not injured and the wagon escaped damage. It will be some time before Mr. Vaughn is able to resume his duties. Meantime John McElravy will look after the work.

TWO RIGS COLLIDE

The Clash Causes Much Excitement
And a Horse Is Nearly Killed.

As the result of a collision on McKinley avenue at 8 o'clock Saturday night a valuable horse belonging to W. C. Van Fossen came near being killed.

Mr. Van Fossen, who is a huckster, was making a delivery somewhat later than usual and being in a hurry to get home was driving north on the road at a rapid pace. In a surrey driven by L. K. Deemer, of Lisbon, was the family of Charles Brandon who recently shipped their goods to Chester, where Mr. Brandon had secured employment as a shearmen in the mill.

The outfits came together at the foot of the steep incline and the tongue of the surrey struck Van Fossen's horse in the neck, penetrating the flesh to the depth of fully four inches. Luckily the point turned aside when the windpipe was reached and it was not punctured. The end of the tongue broke from the force of the blow and ran into the ground. It was broken in several other places and the gearing of the vehicle was badly damaged.

Van Fossen's horse was taken at once to the barn, and an effort made to dress the wound, which was bleeding profusely. Meantime the occupants of the surrey were compelled to alight and seek shelter at the home of G. W. Ashbaugh until another rig could be secured. The trip to Chester was completed at a late hour. Mr. Deemer returned to the city from Lisbon and the broken surrey was hauled home.

Was Found Chasing People With

BOY CHARGED WITH THEFT

And Other Offenders Were Before the Mayor for Sentence—Business in Police Circles Brisk on Saturday And Sunday.

Business in police court was unusually brisk Saturday night and yesterday for a little pay day, and the police gathered in a goodly batch of victims, common drunks principally.

Officer Davidson started the ball by arresting James Penny, an old offender, who has a habit of getting himself pinched every time he absorbs any quantity of booze. Jim and Red Moore were traveling together and became so hilarious that it was necessary to separate the pair. When he faced the mayor yesterday morning Penny was assessed $7.60. He was a few dollars shy of the necessary amount, but gave up what he had and furnished an order upon his employer for the remainder.

John Rench, a small boy and an orphan, was taken into custody Saturday evening by Officer Dawson on the charge of petty larceny. He was accused of stealing a basket of grapes from the American Cash Grocery and when arraigned was badly frightened. Mayor Davidson fined him $2 and costs, which will be paid by his employer.

Biddy Blakeley is ordinarily a very peaceful individual, but liquor makes him brave. Especially is this true of his desire to fight with his wife and any other woman who might be in the vicinity. Early Sunday morning he was found chasing people about the house with a butcher knife. Officer Davidson had some trouble landing him, but finally succeeded and Biddy was placed in jail. When he was brought in Sunday for a hearing he was feeling badly and there was several things he could not understand. He said he never knew before that a policeman could enter a man's house to arrest him. He was satisfied now, of course, and pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct. His assessment was $9.60, and the authorities hold an order on Burford Bros. for the amount.

Dan Stevens was a common drunk and he was that in every sense of the word. Officer Stafford arrested him, and it was developed at the hearing that he had no money. His fine was placed at $1 and costs, and he is still in jail.

A large load of liquor, Officer Aufderheide and the patrolmen were responsible for the arrest of Wesley McKinnon on Saturday night. Mayor Davidson charged him $5.60 for his sport, and he gave an order for the amount.

John Bennett hails from somewhere down the river, and what is very uncommon for him, had enough money Saturday night to load up with more booze than he could conveniently carry. At least Officer Davidson thought so, and he was placed where no harm could possibly come to him. Mayor Davidson fined him $5.60, which was a trifle over his pile. He had $4.10, however, and he was more than willing to part with this to secure his freedom.

EIGHTY LICENSES

To Marry Issued During the Past Month—A Balloonist
As a Bride.

Lisbon, December 2.—(Special)—Marriage licenses have been issued to George Hanson and Ella Loutzenheiser, Leontia; F. P. Johnson and Eva LeRoy, Salem. On the records Miss LeRoy is said to be a balloonist from Quebec, Canada.

In the month of November were issued 82 marriage licenses. The probate judge says this is the best November in this respect for 10 years. December and June usually furnish more marriages than November, June being the banner month.

Robbed And Assaulted.

Lisbon, December 2.—(Special)—George Nichols, of Columbiana, was most brutally assaulted in Youngstown, after which he was robbed of $50 and left in an almost dying condition. He went to Youngstown with his brothers and a load of hay and started out to celebrate, winding up in a hospital.

SOLEMN SERVICE IN MEMORIAM

Elks of This City Impressively Pay Tribute to Departed Brothers.

ELOQUENT EULOGY SPOKEN

And Sweet Music Rendered, All the Ceremonies Being Most Appropriate—Synopsis of the Able Address of Attorney J. A. Martin.

The annual memorial service of the East Liverpool lodge No. 258, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, was held yesterday afternoon in the opera house. A fine representation of the order was present to pay tribute in solemn song and listen to touching words of eloquence in memory of departed brothers.

Nowling's orchestra rendered sweetly, "Hearts and Flowers," after which the ceremonies were opened by Exalted Ruler Ed L. Carson. This consisted in the reading of a memorial ritual with responses by the officers of the lodge.

The roll of deceased members of No. 258 was read. Their names are: S. M. Laughlin, W. E. Stewart, J. J. Fuller, C. M. Dix, J. H. Mountford, G. H. Eardley, J. W. Moore and R. F. Stewart.

A song, entitled "The Good Shepherd," was sung by Miss Edna Woods, of Steubenville. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. G. Jordan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Alfred V. Flading, of Wheeling, sang "Calvary" and Attorney J. A. Martin, of Lisbon, delivered the address.

Mr. Martin's words were of poetic pathos. He said that he was moved on being in the presence of an order that represented grace and culture. It would be his province of the hour to awaken tender thoughts rather than to instruct or amuse. Could we make the forget-me-not, which is the emblem of the order, bloom more fragrantly over the graves of our departed brothers?

When Alexander the Great gave his feast after the battle of Issus he inquired, "Are we all here?" Critics replied: "Yes, we are all here, save those who have fallen." "Then we are all here," said Alexander.

The speaker felt that the words of Alexander might appropriately be used at this time, for our deceased members were with us. He declared fidelity to the departed to be one of the manliest of virtues. This ceremony had its origin in hope, love and immortality. Love is enduring and immortal. It follows beyond the grave. Repining is needless.

This is well illustrated by the mother who refused to be comforted in the loss of her loved one. "The cherub appeared to her in a dream bearing a pitcher, and when the mother asked why she carried the pitcher the cherub replied that she was obliged to bear the mother's tears shed for it on earth. On awakening the mother dried her tears.

It is the mission of the Elks to banish grief. Not only is man taught best how to die, but how to live. Elks subscribe to belief in God, to heaven and immortality. They hold that death is only the awakening, the golden key that unlocks the door to eternity. An instinctive belief has uplifted the minds of men, has taught them that they are born to a higher destiny.

Mr. Martin spoke of the order embracing such names as Admiral Dewey and the late President McKinley. But the best of our lives is our small kindnesses to each other. The Elks believe in hiding the failures and proclaiming the virtues of their members.

Their order is a product of the nineteenth century, having no ancient lineage. Its tenets are rooted in law and order and good citizenship. It cannot exist except on soil where the American flag flies. He was inclined to believe that B. P. O. E. stood for Best People on Earth.

At the conclusion of the address Miss Woods sang "The Dream of Paradise" and a vocal number was also sung by Albert V. Flading. The memorial closed with the reading of a ritual by the exalted ruler and a benediction by Rev. C. G. Jordan.

WANTS HIM REMOVED

Anna Roberts Not Satisfied With Walter Burrows As Administrator.
Probate Notes.

Lisbon, December 2.—(Special)—Anna Roberts has filed a motion to remove Richard Burrows as administrator of Walter Burrows, late of East Liverpool. The motion alleges that there are unsettled claims between the administrator and the estate that may lead to litigation. The hearing is set for December 26.

PRISON STATISTICS SHOW CRIME IS NOT GAINING

Lodge Riddle has been appointed guardian of the four minor children of Jesse Frost, deceased, of Center township. Bond is fixed at $2,500.

The will of Charles D. Maus, late of Center township, was presented and application filed for its admission to probate.

CHURCH BIRTHDAY

LUTHERANS' 15TH ANNIVERSARY
BEING CELEBRATED.

Appropriate Services Held on Sunday—Sermon By Dr.
Geissinger.

The fifteenth anniversary of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran congregation, the fifth anniversary of the new church building and the fifteenth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. J. G. Reinartz were fittingly observed Sunday.

There was holy communion morning and evening. Beautiful floral decorations embellished the pulpit and excellent music was rendered.

In the morning the pastor preached on the gospel for the Sunday in advent. It was a powerful sermon. In the evening Rev. Dr. Geissinger, of Pittsburg, gave an inspiring sermon.

The anniversary services will be continued on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Rev. J. G. Reinartz is a very able divine. He was born in 1860 in Germany, educated in that country, receiving the degree of M. A., and also in Thiel college at Greenville, Pa., and at the Philadelphia Theological seminary. For 12 years he preached here and at St. Matthew's, Beaver county. His parish has grown from a handful to over 400, with a fine church building. He has preached over 2,000 sermons and addresses, traveled over 21,000 miles and performed various other duties devolving upon a busy pastor.

LAYING THE CONDUITS

Satisfactory Progress Made By the Bell Telephone
Workmen.

Superintendent of Construction William Pidgeon is progressing nicely with the laying of the conduits for the Bell Telephone company's cable system. The ducts have been laid on Market, East and West Market and Broadway. The lateral conduit in the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets, connecting Broadway with Market was completed Saturday and today the lateral in the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets was commenced.

The paving has been replaced in a commendable manner. Mr. Pidgeon said that it would be some time before the laying of the ducts is finished and several connections will be put in. An indefinite length of time will be required, depending very much on the weather and the number of laborers obtainable.

Cables will not be put in the East Liverpool conduits until next summer.

BRIDGE LITIGATION

All Now Disposed of Except the Question of Payment of Bonds.

An action will be taken in the United States circuit court at Parkersburg, W. Va., before Judge Jackson next Thursday, relatives to the East Liverpool bridge.

All litigation that has been especially intricate and stubborn has been settled, but Frank Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, holds $100,000 6 per cent bridge bonds that have matured and are unpaid and wants his money.

If they are not paid the court can do nothing else than order a sale, but a gentleman who has been interested in bridge affairs financially said this morning that it would be no difficult matter to pay this indebtedness; that it could be easily arranged. The bridge is very good property, a paying investment and Mr. Pitcairn's obligation will probably be cancelled without any order of the court between now and December 5.

Odd Fellows.

East Liverpool lodge of Odd Fellows will confer the initiatory degree upon several candidates at the meeting tonight.

POINTERS FOR NEW PENSIONERS

Spanish War Veterans Won't Have
Their Stipend Taken Away if They Are Satisfied Not to Ask an Increase—Notes From the Capital.

Columbus, Dec. 2.—(Special)—Figures compiled at the penitentiary do not substantiate the claim so often made that crime is on the increase. An analysis has been made of the record of the prison population for the past 12 years and by comparing it with the population of the state then and what it is now it shows a material decrease in the number of criminals. In 1890 the number of convicts in the penitentiary was not much less than the number now confined. The population in 1890 was 1,533 men, 24 women. The large population of the decade was in 1897 and 1898—in 1897, 2,241 men and 37 women; in 1898, 2,265 men and 32 women.

In 1901 there are 1,644 men and 32 women. In recent years the penitentiary population has been swelled by the large number of prisoners here from the federal courts.

It seems considerable apprehension prevails among the Spanish war veterans lest they will be ordered to appear before a medical board for re-examination, which might result in the loss of the regular monthly stipend they receive from the government. Colonel W. S. Curry, state commissioner, declares there are no grounds for such fears. Those enrolled on the pension list, he says, are there to stay, and the only way in which they would be liable to be stricken from the roll would be for them to apply for an increase in pension and upon examination be found physically sound. So, if one doesn't want to lose his pension he should not apply for an increase. A number of Eighth Ohio soldiers whose health was affected by the Cuban climate are drawing pensions.

Willard Morris, a prominent member of the Odd Fellows lodge of East Liverpool, has sent two very fine jardinières to Secretary Lyman, to be presented to the Odd Fellows' home at Springfield. They were made in East Liverpool. Mr. Morris is an employee of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles Pottery company.

The annual meeting of the Ohio State Dental society will be held in Columbus on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Hugh B. Mitchell, of Canton, will read a paper on "Technic and Taste." C. H. Birckett, of East Liverpool, under the clinic section will discuss "An Exhibit of New Things."

posed abolishment of the tax levy will be held in this city next Thursday by Governor Nash, Auditor of State Guilbert and the special committees of the state auditors' association and the commissioners' association. It is expected that a plan will be formulated whereby the tax can be wiped out.

Supt. J. M. Moore, of Leontia, was elected vice president of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association at Zanesville. W. H. Maurer, of Steubenville, was elected president. Next year's meeting will be held at Marietta.

A conference relative to the proposed abolishment of the tax levy will be held in this city next Thursday by Governor Nash, Auditor of State Guilbert and the special committees of the state auditors' association and the commissioners' association. It is expected that a plan will be formulated whereby the tax can be wiped out.

Toronto Pastor Resigns.
Toronto, December 2.—Rev. Edward T. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, at the morning service yesterday surprised his congregation by tendering his resignation. He was formerly pastor of the Castle Shannon congregation and has been pastor here two years.

A Governor Removed.
Gov. Wm. M. Jenkins, of Oklahoma, who has been removed from office by the President for making an improper contract with a sanitarium company, was a former resident of Alliance and is well known in this county.

The annual memorial service of the East Liverpool lodge No. 258, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, was held yesterday afternoon in the opera house. A fine representation of the order was present to pay tribute in solemn song and listen to touching words of eloquence in memory of departed brothers.

Nowling's orchestra rendered sweetly, "Hearts And Flowers," after which the ceremonies were opened by Exalted Ruler Ed L. Carson. This consisted in the reading of a memorial ritual with responses by the officers of the lodge.

The roll of deceased members of No. 258 was read. Their names are: S. M. Laughlin, W. E. Stewart, J. J. Fuller, C. M. Dix, J. H. Mountford, G. H. Eardley, J. W. Moore and R. F. Stewart.

A song, entitled "The Good Shepherd," was sung by Miss Edna Woods, of Steubenville. Prayer was offered by Rev. C. G. Jordan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Alfred V. Flading, of Wheeling, sang "Calvary" and Attorney J. A. Martin, of Lisbon, delivered the address.

Mr. Martin's words were of poetic pathos. He said that he was moved on being in the presence of an order that represented grace and culture. It would be his province of the hour to awaken tender thoughts rather than to instruct or amuse. Could we make the forget-me-not, which is the emblem of the order, bloom more fragrantly over the graves of our departed brothers?

When Alexander the Great gave his last after the battle of Issus he inquired, "Are we all here?" Crites replied: "Yes, we are all here, save those who have fallen." "Then we are all here," said Alexander.

The speaker felt that the words of Alexander might appropriately be used at this time, for our deceased members were with us. He declared fidelity to the departed to be one of the manliest of virtues. This ceremony had its origin in hope, love and immortality. Love is enduring and immortal. It follows beyond the grave. Repining is needless.

This is well illustrated by the mother who refused to be comforted in the loss of her loved one. The cherub appeared to her in a dream bearing a pitcher, and when the mother asked why she carried the pitcher the cherub replied that she was of fied to bear the mother's tears shed for it on earth. On awakening the mother dried her tears.

It is the mission of the Elks to banish grief. Not only is man taught, best how to die, but how to live. Elks subscribe to belief in God, to heaven and immortality. They hold that death is only the awakening, the golden key that unlocks the door to eternity. An instinctive belief has uplifted the minds of men, has taught them that they are born to a higher destiny.

Mr. Martin spoke of the order embracing such names as Admiral Dewey and the late President McKinley. But the best of our lives is our small kindnesses to each other. The Elks believe in hiding the failures and proclaiming the virtues of their members.

Their order is a product of the nineteenth century, having no ancient lineage. Its tenets are rooted in law and order and good citizenship. It cannot exist except on soil where the American flag flies. He was inclined to believe that B. P. O. E. stood for Best People on Earth.

At the conclusion of the address Miss Woods sang "The Dream of Paradise" and a vocal number was also sung by Albert V. Flading. The memorial closed with the reading of a ritual by the exalted ruler and a benediction by Rev. C. G. Jordan.

remove Richard Burrows as administrator of Walter Burrows, late of East Liverpool. The motion alleges that there are unsettled claims between the administrator and the estate that may lead to litigation. The hearing is set for December 26.

The will of Charles D. Maus, late of Center township, was presented and application filed for its admission to probate.

CHURCH BIRTHDAY

BEING CELEBRATED.

day—Sermon By Dr.
Geissinger.

The fifteenth anniversary of the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran congregation, the fifth anniversary of the new church building and the fifteenth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. J. G. Reinhartz were fittingly observed Sunday.

There was holy communion morning and evening. Beautiful floral decorations embellished the pulpit and excellent music was rendered.

In the morning the pastor preached on the gospel for the Sunday in advent. It was a powerful sermon. In the evening Rev. Dr. Geissinger, of Pittsburg, gave an inspiring sermon.

The anniversary services will be continued on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Rev. J. G. Reinhartz is a very able divine. He was born in 1860 in Germany, educated in that country, receiving the degree of M. A., and also in Thiel college at Greenville, Pa., and at the Philadelphia Theological seminary. For 12 years he preached here and at St. Matthew's, Beaver county. His parish has grown from a handful to over 400, with a fine church building. He has preached over 2,000 sermons and addresses, traveled over 21,000 miles and performed various other duties devolving upon a busy pastor.

LAYING THE CONDUITS

Bell Telephone
Workmen.

Superintendent of Construction William Pidgeon is progressing nicely with the laying of the conduits for the Bell Telephone company's cable system. The ducts have been laid on Market, East and West Market and Broadway. The lateral conduit in the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets, connecting Broadway with Market was completed Saturday and today the lateral in the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets was commenced.

The paving has been replaced in a commendable manner. Mr. Pidgeon said that it would be some time before the laying of the ducts is finished and several connections will be put in. An indefinite length of time will be required, depending very much on the weather and the number of laborers obtainable.

Cables will not be put in the East Liverpool conduits until next summer.

BRIDGE LITIGATION

All Now Disposed of Except the Ques-
Bonds.

An action will be taken in the United States circuit court at Parkersburg, W. Va., before Judge Jackson next Thursday, relatives to the East Liverpool bridge.

All litigation that has been especially intricate and stubborn has been settled, but Frank Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, holds $100,000 6 per cent bridge bonds that have matured and are unpaid and wants his money.

If they are not paid the court can do nothing else than order a sale, but a gentleman who has been interested in bridge affairs financially said this morning that it would be no difficult matter to pay this indebtedness; that it could be easily arranged. The bridge is very good property, a paying investment and Mr. Pitcairn's obligation will probably be cancelled without any order of the court between now and December 5.

Odd Fellows.

POINTERS FOR NEW PENSIONERS

Their Stipend Taken Away If They
Are Satisfied Not to Ask an Increase—Notes From the Capital.

Columbus, Dec. 2.—(Special)—Figures compiled at the penitentiary do not substantiate the claim so often made that crime is on the increase. An analysis has been made of the record of the prison population for the past 12 years and by comparing it with the population of the state then and what it is now it shows a material decrease in the number of criminals. In 1890 the number of convicts in the penitentiary was not much less than the number now confined. The population in 1890 was 1,533 men, 24 women. The large population of the decade was in 1897 and 1898—in 1897, 2,241 men and 37 women; in 1898, 2,265 men and 32 women.

In 1901 there are 1,644 men and 33 women. In recent years the penitentiary population has been swelled by the large number of prisoners here from the federal courts.

It seems considerable apprehension prevails among the Spanish war veterans lest they will be ordered to appear before a medical board for re-examination, which might result in the loss of the regular monthly stipend they receive from the government. Colonel W. S. Curry, state commissioner, declares there are no grounds for such fears. Those enrolled on the pension list, he says, are there to stay, and the only way in which they would be liable to be stricken from the roll would be for them to apply for an increase in pension and upon examination be found physically sound. So, if one doesn't want to lose his pension he should not apply for an increase. A number of Eighth Ohio soldiers whose health was affected by the Cuban climate are drawing pensions.

Willard Morris, a prominent member of the Odd Fellows lodge of East Liverpool, has sent two very fine jardiniere to Secretary Lyman, to be presented to the Odd Fellows' home at Springfield. They were made in East Liverpool. Mr. Morris is an employee of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles Pottery company.

The annual meeting of the Ohio State Dental society will be held in Columbus on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Hugh B. Mitchell, of Canton, will read a paper on "Technic And Taste." C. H. Brickett, of East Liverpool, under the clinic section will discuss "An Exhibit of New Things."

posed abolishment of the tax levy will be held in this city next Thursday by Governor Nash, Auditor of State Guilbert and the special committees of the state auditors' association and the commissioners' association. It is expected that a plan will be formulated whereby the tax can be wiped out.

Supt. J. M. Moore, of Leetonia, was elected vice president of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association at Zanesville. W. H. Maurer, of Steubenville, was elected president. Next year's meeting will be held at Marietta.

THE ORDINATION OF A MINISTER

Coming Services of the Baptists of Interest In Church
Circles.

COUNCIL OF ORDINATION

Convenes Thursday Afternoon And in
the Evening Rev. Oscar L. Owens
Will Be Formally Installed as Pastor—Notable Clergy to Attend.

Readers of the News Review will
remember a report of the recognition
service of the First Baptist church of this city, which worships in the Smith
Fowler hall.

The church, which worshiped together for about a year before definite
organization and recognition, had as
pastor during the summer months Mr.
W. H. Beynon, who is now pursuing his studies in the University of Chicago.

At the close of his pastorate Mr.
Oscar Lee Owens, of Richmond, Va.,
the present pastor, was given a call.
Mr. Owens was licensed in 1893 in his
old home church in southeastern Virginia. After five years' study he graduated from Richmond college in 1898,
being the valedictorian of his class.
At one time he also served as president of the Virginia State Oratorical
association. In 1899 he entered the Rochester Theological seminary,
graduating therefrom in May, 1901.
He was called to the First Baptist church here and began work October 1st.

A council of ordination has been called by the church and will convene
Thursday, December 5, at the First Presbyterian church here. The meeting of this council will be held at 3
p. m. and the ordination at 7:30 p. m.
Both services are open to the public.

The principal features of the evening service will be: Sermon, ordain-
ing prayer, right hand of fellowship,
charge to candidate, charge to the
church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. C. J. Baldwin, D. D., minister of the First Baptist church,
Granville, O., a preacher of rare ability and power.

Music will be furnished by the First Presbyterian church choir.

Among those who have already sig-
nified their intention of being present
are: Rev. C. J. Baldwin, Granville,
O.; State Secretary Geo. E. Leonard,
Granville; Rev. Dr. Chesner, Wooster;
Rev. L. R. Mears, Niles; the pastor
of the First church of Wheeling, W.
Va.; Rev. J. S. Ebersol, Coshocton;
Rev. C. V. Allen, Canton. In all,
including laymen, the council will probably consist of about 25 members. The event is of considerable importance
to the church and interest to the community in general.

LEFT AT THE CHURCH DOOR

Fate of a Bride Whose Lover Says
She Mistrusted
Him.

Youngstown, December 2. — Some
weeks ago on the evening of his marriage to Miss Nellie Kintz, Will Mon-
aghan, of Cleveland, disappeared and
nothing was heard of him until to-
day. He is working here as a molder.
He says he left Miss Kintz at the
church door because she threw him
down once for another man and he wanted to get even.

Miss Kintz and the wedding guests
waited over an hour at St. Michael's church in Cleveland for the bridegroom who never came.

Wonderful Musical Memory.

Sir John Stainer had a wonderful
musical memory. It was put to the test once at the Crystal palace when
he had to play the organ in the "Messiah" and a folio copy, on which alone
he could see the score, was not forthcoming. The conductor was in despair.
Sir John cut the knot by a wonderful
tour de force, playing the part fault-
lessly right through and entirely from memory, probably the only time the
"Messiah" has been so rendered.—Lon-

EAST END

ALMOST BLINDED

BY A BLAZING GAS AND HIS FACE
BADLY BURNED.

Young Man Working on the Pipe Line
Meets With a Serious
Mishap.

William Dillon, a young man working with the Ohio Valley Gas company's pipe line gang in the East End,
was badly burned about the face and head Saturday. The men were putting in a "tee" near the Laughlin No.
2 pottery and the joint had not been soldered.

A fire had been built to heat the
main so that it could be straightened.
James Drum admitted the gas from
the leading main to blow out the new
piping when the gas was forced in quantity through the unsoldered joint
of the "tee."

Dillon was standing at this point
when the volume of gas caught in a flash from the fire. He was almost blinded and was rescued from the blaze by his fellow laborers. His face
was so badly burned that the skin
dropped off.

The victim of the accident was taken to the home of Charles Twyford in Dixonville, where he boards. It is thought that he will not lose his eyesight, but the young man will be laid
up indefinitely.

MET WITH A BAD HURT

George Twyford Twice Injured in the Same Week While at Work.

George Twyford, who resides in Dix-
onville, a twin brother of Charles A.
Twyford, who met with a tragic death
by an old shed toppling on him in Chester three weeks ago, was seriously injured in Chester Saturday even-
ing. He is in the employ of the Ohio Valley Gas company, and during the
week had ruptured himself by lifting
a heavy pipe.

After being off duty for two days
he returned to his work and met with
a similar but worse injury. The young man was taken to his home late Saturday night, where a physician found
him in a dangerous condition. He is critically ill, but was this morning
somewhat improved.

SEIZED WITH PARALYSIS

Aged Abner Martin Stricken While at Breakfast on Sunday.

Abner Martin, aged 84, the wealthiest citizen of the East End, was pro-
strated with a paralytic stroke Sunday
morning while eating breakfast at his home on Railroad street. He had been in the best of health. The malady
caused him to be in a semi-conscious
state for some time.

A physician was summoned and
found that the patient's right side was affected. Mr. Martin was considerably improved this morning.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS

Of Sewer Pipe Are to Be Made From East End
Works.

The American Sewer Pipe works began today getting out heavy shipments
for their New England trade. Manager T. F. Anderson received a message
Saturday stating that the switchmen's
strike on eastern roads had been settled and that freight could be handled.

Orders of sewer pipe have been held
back two weeks on account of this strike and Mr. Anderson said that

shipments would be made as fast as they could get cars. The works are very busy.

Rudely Interrupted by the Approach
of an Officer.

Constable Powell went to the East
End Sunday to break up a boisterous
meeting of several youths who had congregated close to the residence of
Joseph Bailey near Columbian park.

The boys were drinking whisky
playing penny ante and were disturbing the neighborhood by their carous-
ing. They had obtained a tip, however, that an officer was coming, and
when the constable arrived could not
be found.

HOUSE ON FIRE

With Dip-
theria.

The log house of Harry Kerr, back
of Oakland, caught fire in the second story from a defective flue on Saturday. By chopping a hole in the roof
Mr. Kerr succeeded after a stubborn
contest in extinguishing the flames
with pails of water, but the roof and
second story were badly damaged.

In the house Mr. Kerr's son lay
sick with diphtheria.

How to Prevent Croup.

It will be good news to the mothers
of small children to learn that croup
can be prevented. The first sign of the disease is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. That remedy is used in this
way by many thousands of mothers,
and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale

When Coal Was Prohibited.

It makes the present generation smile
to read the accounts which have come
down to us concerning the prejudices
which were formerly entertained
against certain articles which are of
everyday consumption.

For instance, it is said that when coal
was first used in England the prejudice
against it was so strong that the house
of commons petitioned the king to prohibit the use of the "noxious" fuel.

A royal proclamation having failed to
abate the nuisance, a commission was issued to ascertain who burned coal
within the city of London and its neighborhood, to punish them by force for
the first offense and by the demolition
of their furnaces if they persisted in transgressing. A law was finally passed making it a capital offense to burn
coal in the city and only permitting it
to be used by forges in the vicinity. It is stated that among the records in the Tower of London a document was found according to which a man was hanged in the time of Edward I. for no
other crime than having been caught
burning coal. It took three centuries
to entirely efface the prejudice.

THE ORDINATION OF A MINISTER

Circles.

COUNCIL OF ORDINATION

Convenes Thursday Afternoon And in
the Evening Rev. Oscar L. Owens
Will Be Formally Installed as Pastor—Notable Clergy to Attend.

Readers of the News Review will
remember a report of the recognition
service of the First Baptist church of this city, which worships in the Smith
Fowler hall.

The church, which worshiped together for about a year before definite
organization and recognition, had as
pastor during the summer months Mr.
W. H. Beynon, who is now pursuing
his studies in the University of Chicago.

At the close of his pastorate Mr.
Oscar Lee Owens, of Richmond, Va.,
the present pastor, was given a call.
Mr. Owens was licensed in 1893 in his
old home church in southeastern Virginia. After five years' study he graduated from Richmond college in 1898,
being the valedictorian of his class.
At one time he also served as president of the Virginia State Oratorical
association. In 1899 he entered the Hochester Theological seminary,
graduating therefrom in May, 1901.
He was called to the First Baptist church here and began work October
1st.

A council of ordination has been
called by the church and will convene
Thursday, December 5, at the First Presbyterian church here. The meeting of this council will be held at 3
p. m. and the ordination at 7:30 p. m.
Both services are open to the public.

The principal features of the evening service will be: Sermon, ordinat-
ing prayer, right hand of fellowship,
charge to candidate, charge to the
church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. C. J. Baldwin, D. D., minister of the First Baptist church,
Granville, O., a preacher of rare ability and power.

Music will be furnished by the First Presbyterian church choir.

Among those who have already sig-
are: Rev. C. J. Baldwin, Granville,
O.; State Secretary Geo. E. Leonard,
Granville; Rev. Dr. Chesner, Wooster;
Rev. L. R. Mears, Niles; the pastor
of the First church of Wheeling, W.
Va.; Rev. J. S. Ebersol, Coshocton;
Rev. C. V. Allen, Canton. In all,
including laymen, the council will probably consist of about 25 members. The
event is of considerable importance
to the church and interest to the community in general.

Fate of a Bride Whose Lover Says
She Mistrusted
Him.

Youngstown, December 2.—Some
weeks ago on the evening of his marriage to Miss Nellie Kintz, Will Mon-
aghan, of Cleveland, disappeared and
nothing was heard of him until to-
day. He is working here as a molder.
He says he left Miss Kintz at the
church door because she threw him
down once for another man and he wanted to get even.

Miss Kintz and the wedding guests
waited over an hour at St. Michael's church in Cleveland for the bridegroom who never came.

Wonderful Musical Memory.

Sir John Stainer had a wonderful
test once at the Crystal palace when
he had to play the organ in the "Messiah" and a full copy, on which alone
he could see the score, was not forth-
coming. The conductor was in despair.
Sir John cut the knot by a wonderful
tour de force, playing the part fault-
lessly right through and entirely from
memory, probably the only time the
"Messiah" has been so rendered.—Lon-

EAST END

ALMOST BLINDED

BY A BLAZING GAS AND HIS FACE
BADLY BURNED.

Meets With a Serious
Mishap.

William Dillon, a young man working with the Ohio Valley Gas company's pipe line gang in the East End,
was badly burned about the face and
head Saturday. The men were putting in a "tee" near the Laughlin No.
2 pottery and the joint had not been
soldered.

A fire had been built to heat the
main so that it could be straightened.
James Drum admitted the gas from
the leading main to blow out the new
piping when the gas was forced in
quantity through the unsoldered joint
of the "tee."

Dillon was standing at this point
when the volume of gas caught in a flash from the fire. He was almost
blinded and was rescued from the
blaze by his fellow laborers. His face
was so badly burned that the skin
dropped off.

The victim of the accident was taken
to the home of Charles Twyford in Dixonville, where he boards. It is thought that he will not lose his eye-
sight, but the young man will be laid
up indefinitely.

MET WITH A BAD HURT

George Twyford Twice Injured in the Same Week While at Work.

George Twyford, who resides in Dix-
onville, a twin brother of Charles A.
Twyford, who met with a tragic death
by an old shed toppling on him in Chester three weeks ago, was seriously injured in Chester Saturday even-
ing. He is in the employ of the Ohio Valley Gas company, and during the
week had ruptured himself by lifting
a heavy pipe.

After being off duty for two days
he returned to his work and met with
a similar but worse injury. The young
man was taken to his home late Saturday night, where a physician found
him in a dangerous condition. He is critically ill, but was this morning
somewhat improved.

SEIZED WITH PARALYSIS

Aged Abner Martin Stricken While at Breakfast on Sunday.

Abner Martin, aged 84, the wealth-
iest citizen of the East End, was pro-
strated with a paralytic stroke Sunday
morning while eating breakfast at his home on Railroad street. He had been
in the best of health. The malady
caused him to be in a semi-conscious
state for some time.

A physician was summoned and
found that the patient's right side was
affected. Mr. Martin was considerably improved this morning.

Of Sewer Pipe Are to Be Made From East End
Works.

The American Sewer Pipe works began today getting out heavy shipments
for their New England trade. Manager T. F. Anderson received a message
Saturday stating that the switchmen's
strike on eastern roads had been settled and that freight could be handled.

Orders of sewer pipe have been held
back two weeks on account of this
strike and Mr. Anderson said that

they could get cars. The works are
very busy.

Rudely Interrupted by the Approach
of an Officer.

Constable Powell went to the East
End Sunday to break up a boisterous
meeting of several youths who had
Joseph Bailey near Columbian park.

The boys were drinking whisky
playing penny ante and were disturbing the neighborhood by their carous-
ing. They had obtained a tip, how-
be found.

While a Son of the Owner Lay Sick
With Dip-
theria.

The log house of Harry Kerr, back
of Oakland, caught fire in the second
story from a defective flue on Satur-
day. By chopping a hole in the roof
Mr. Kerr succeeded after a stubborn
contest in extinguishing the flames
with pails of water, but the roof and
second story were badly damaged.

sick with diphtheria.

Ministers' Meeting.

tained with an elaborate dinner by Mr.

How to Prevent Croup.

It will be good news to the mothers
of small children to learn that croup
can be prevented. The first sign of the disease is hoarseness. A day or two
before the attack the child becomes
hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamber-
lain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as
the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this
way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. That remedy is used in this
way by many thousands of mothers,
and has never been known to fail. It
is, in fact, the only remedy that can
always be depended upon, and that
is pleasant and safe to take. For sale

When Coal Was Prohibited.

It makes the present generation smile
to read the accounts which have come
down to us concerning the prejudices
which were formerly entertained
against certain articles which are of
everyday consumption.

For instance, it is said that when coal
was first used in England the prejudice
against it was so strong that the house
of commons petitioned the king to pro-
hibit the use of the "noxious" fuel.

abate the nuisance, a commission was
issued to ascertain who burned coal
within the city of London and its neighborhood, to punish them by force for
of their furnaces if they persisted in transgressing. A law was finally passed making it a capital offense to burn
coal in the city and only permitting it
to be used by forges in the vicinity. It
is stated that among the records in the Tower of London a document was
found according to which a man was
hanged in the time of Edward I. for no
other crime than having been caught
burning coal. It took three centuries
to entirely efface the prejudice.

CONGRESS CONVENES

The Message of President Roosevelt Will Not Be Read Until Tomorrow.

IN MEMORY OF M'KINLEY.

Congress Probably Will Adjourn until Wednesday—House Expected to Do Same—Public Memorial Services to Be Arranged.

Washington, Dec. 2.—One of the first measures of national interest which will be introduced in the senate at the session which began today will be a resolution looking to public action concerning the death of President McKinley. This will be presented tomorrow either by Senator Foraker or Senator Hanna, probably the latter, and after its introduction the senate will adjourn immediately as a mark of respect to the memory of the dead president. The annual message of President Roosevelt will not be received until tomorrow, and on this account the session today was exceedingly brief. Tomorrow the president's message will be read and after its reading the announcement of the death of President McKinley will follow at once, whereupon, under the precedents established when Presidents Lincoln and Garfield died, resolutions providing for the appointment of a committee to act with a similar committee of the house of representatives to take appropriate action relative to the matter, and then calling for immediate adjournment for the day will be adopted. Heretofore committees have been appointed to arrange the details of public exercises, and it is understood that plan will be pursued in this instance, and that later in the session some public manifestation will be invited to deliver a eulogy in the capitol.

Canal Bill to Be Introduced.

Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to the introduction of new bills, and as usual there will be a flood of them. Among the first bills of importance to be presented will be the ship subsidy bill, which will be introduced by Senator Frye, and the Nicaragua canal bill, which Senator Morgan will present. Senator Frye has not entirely completed his bill, but he said Sunday that it would be different in many details from the old bill of last session. The measure was framed by former Senator Edmunds. Senator Frye himself is the author of the new bill. Senator Morgan's canal bill will be a duplicate of Representative Hepburn's bill on the canal question. Other early bills of importance will be one looking to the construction of a submarine cable from the western coast of Hawaii, and another providing for the establishment of a new executive department to be known as the department of commerce. On Thursday the senate will adjourn until the following Monday.

The general opinion among senators is that very little real work will be done before the Christmas holidays. The first subject demanding attention is reciprocity. Various treaties are now pending in the senate looking to commercial agreements between the United States and other countries. Senator Aldrich will renew his effort to have these treaties which already have been reported from the committee on foreign relations, committed to the committee on finance on the ground that they deal with tariff questions. The friends of the treaties will oppose this, and the preliminary skirmish expected to ensue probably will serve to develop some interesting features.

The early days of the session will be marked by the reorganization of the senate committees so far as may be necessary, and a caucus of the Republican members will be held today for the purpose of considering this question and appointing a committee to suggest names for the vacancies. The most important place to be filled is that of chairman of the committee

FIRST of ALL— Reciprocity With Cuba

By Senator HENRY CABOT LODGE

It is well to remember that reciprocity, whether brought about by treaty or by legislation, is an integral part of the protective system. The advocates of protection have always asserted that their policy would give us the home market. That has come to pass. We also declared that with the home market secure and strong we should enter upon an expanding trade with foreign markets. Here, too, we have been justified by the largest volume of exports ever known which has come under the words of President McKinley, "Reciprocity is the our wonderful industry under the domestic polished." Without reciprocity is impossible. cannot make reciprocity other nations because give. The United States, being a protectionist nation, is able to make reciprocal arrangements with other nations because it has something to give in exchange for corresponding advantages.

The prosperity and development of that great island are important to the United States in a degree second only to the welfare of one of the states of the Union. A moderate reduction in our duties on her two great products, sugar and tobacco, which will give her a reasonable preference in our markets as against foreign countries, will not only secure to us a practical monopoly of her increasing market, but will bring to Cuba itself wealth and security.

Passing from Cuba, where the reasons for reciprocity are peculiarly strong, we come to the treaties now pending in the senate. There are eleven treaties in all. It is by no means certain that the reciprocity that we all desire cannot be better and more quickly obtained by a general law than by a series of treaties which would give us a different tariff with every nation in the world. It should be remembered also that the articles mentioned in these treaties affect nearly every schedule of the tariff and that the industrial interests of the various states which are thus touched by the proposed treaties are most anxious in regard to the effect they will have upon our domestic markets.

on foreign relations. It is generally conceded that Senator Cullom, who is the senior Republican member of that committee, will succeed to the chairmanship.

House Convened Today.

The house convened today. The speaker was sworn in, as were new members, and other business done.

The clerk of the house will call the members to order at noon and after prayer by the chaplain the roll will be called by states.

The president's message will be withheld until tomorrow. General Grosvenor, of Ohio, probably will make the sad announcement to the house of the death of the late President McKinley and offer resolutions upon which the house will act. Tomorrow that portion of the president's message referring to the death of Mr. McKinley probably will be referred to a committee to arrange a program of eulogies. It is rather a remarkable coincidence that Mr. McKinley was the chairman of the committee which arranged the program when President Garfield died. Blaine pronounced the eulogy upon that occasion. Elihu B. Washburn was chairman when Lincoln died and George Bancroft, the historian, was the orator. After tomorrow the house probably will adjourn three days at a time until congress recesses for the Christmas holidays. Speaker Henderson will occupy some of this time preparing his committee lists, which will be announced as soon as the house convenes after the holidays. Practically no business will be transacted before the holidays.

UNITED STATES TROOPS GO AROUND THE WORLD.

New York, Dec. 2.—The United States transport Buford arrived from Manila with eight companies of the Twenty-third United States infantry. Companies A to H, 901 enlisted men, non-commissioned staff and band and 37 officers, under command of Colonel J. Milton Thompson. There were also 115 discharged soldiers and government employes on board. The men are a fine, robust lot, in good spirits and glad to get home. The Twenty-third infantry is the first regiment of United States troops to travel around the world.

Nearly 100 Ripped Out of Office.

Pittsburg, Dec. 2.—Recorder J. O. Brown and Senator William Flinn ripped nearly 100 city employes out of place Saturday. The recorder had been in office only six days. Heads dropped from park laborers and firemen to the bureau heads and police inspectors.

A Peculiar Word.

The word "habit" is one of the most peculiar in our language. If you take off the first letter, you still have "a bit." If you remove the second, the word "bit" is still on hand. Decapitate that by removing the "b" and it is still a word. Take off the "i," and you find the old "habit" not "it" totally destroyed.

CONGRESS CONVENES

IN MEMORY OF M'KINLEY.

Congress Probably Will Adjourn until Wednesday—House Expected to Do Same—Public Memorial Services to Be Arranged.

Washington, Dec. 2.—One of the first measures of national interest which will be introduced in the senate at the session which began today will be a resolution looking to public action concerning the death of President McKinley. This will be presented tomorrow either by Senator Foraker or Senator Hanna, probably the former, and after its introduction the senate will adjourn immediately as a mark of respect to the memory of the dead president. The annual message of President Roosevelt will not be received until tomorrow, and on this account the session today was exceedingly brief. Tomorrow the president's message will be read and after its reading the announcement of the death of President McKinley will follow at once, whereupon, under the precedents established when Presidents Lincoln and Garfield died, resolutions providing for the appointment of a committee to act with a similar committee of the house of representatives to take appropriate action relative to the matter, and then calling for immediate adjournment for the day will be adopted. Heretofore committees have been appointed to arrange the details of public exercises, and it is understood that plan will be pursued in this instance, and that later in the session some public man of distinction will be invited to deliver a eulogy in the capitol.

Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to the introduction of new bills, and as usual there will be a flood of them. Among the first bills of importance to be presented will be the ship subsidy bill, which will be introduced by Senator Frye, and the Nicaragua canal bill, which Senator Morgan will present. Senator Frye has not entirely completed his bill, but he said Sunday that it would be different in many details from the old bill of last session. The measure was framed by former Senator Edmunds. Senator Frye himself is the author of the new bill. Senator Morgan's canal bill will be a duplicate of Representative Hepburn's bill on the canal question. Other early bills of importance will be one looking to the construction of a submarine cable from the western coast of Hawaii, and another providing for the establishment of a new executive department to be known as the department of commerce. On Thursday the senate will adjourn until the following Monday.

The general opinion among senators is that very little real work will be done before the Christmas holidays. The first subject demanding attention is reciprocity. Various treaties are now pending in the senate looking to commercial agreements between the United States and other countries. Senator Aldrich will renew his effort to have these treaties which already have been reported from the committee on foreign relations, committed to the committee on finance on the ground that they deal with tariff questions. The friends of the treaties will oppose this, and the preliminary skirmish expected to ensue probably will serve to develop some interesting features.

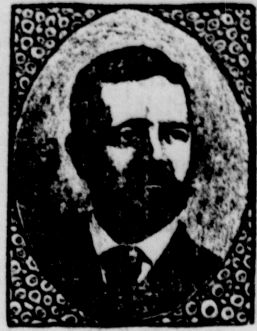

The early days of the session will be marked by the reorganization of the senate committees so far as may be necessary, and a caucus of the Republican members will be held today for the purpose of considering this question and appointing a committee to suggest names for the vacancies. The most important place to be filled is that of chairman of the committee

FIRST of ALL—Reciprocity With Cuba

By Senator HENRY CABOT LODGE

It is well to remember that reciprocity, whether brought about by treaty or by legislation, is an integral part of the protective system. The advocates of protection have always asserted that their policy would give us the home market. That has come to pass. We also declared that with the home market secure and strong we should enter upon an expanding trade with foreign markets. Here, too, we have been justified by the largest volume of exports ever known which has come under the words of President McKinley, "Reciprocity is the our wonderful industry under the domestic polished." Without reciprocity is impossible. cannot make reciprocity other nations because give. The United States, being a protectionist nation, is able to make reciprocal arrangements with other nations because it has something to give in exchange for corresponding advantages.

The prosperity and development of that great island are important to the United States in a degree second only to the welfare of one of the states of the Union. A moderate reduction in our duties on her two great products, sugar and tobacco, which will give her a reasonable preference in our markets as against foreign countries, will not only secure to us a practical monopoly of her increasing market, but will bring to Cuba itself wealth and security.

Passing from Cuba, where the reasons for reciprocity are peculiarly strong, we come to the treaties now pending in the senate. There are eleven treaties in all. It is by no means certain that the reciprocity that we all desire cannot be better and more quickly obtained by a general law than by a series of treaties which would give us a different tariff with every nation in the world. It should be remembered also that the articles mentioned in these treaties affect nearly every schedule of the tariff and that the industrial interests of the various states which are thus touched by the proposed treaties are most anxious in regard to the effect they will have upon our domestic markets.

on foreign relations. It is generally conceded that Senator Cullom, who is the senior Republican member of that committee, will succeed to the chairmanship.

House Convened Today.

The house convened today. The speaker was sworn in, as were new members, and other business done. The clerk of the house will call the members to order at noon and after prayer by the chaplain the roll will be called by states.

The president's message will be withheld until tomorrow. General Grosvenor, of Ohio, probably will make the sad announcement to the house of the death of the late President McKinley and offer resolutions upon which the house will act. Tomorrow that portion of the president's message referring to the death of Mr. McKinley probably will be referred to a committee to arrange a program of eulogies. It is rather a remarkable coincidence that Mr. McKinley was the chairman of the committee which arranged the program when President Garfield died. Blaine pronounced the eulogy upon that occasion. Elihu B. Washburn was chairman when Lincoln died and George Bancroft, the historian, was the orator. After tomorrow the house probably will adjourn three days at a time until congress recesses for the Christmas holidays. Speaker Henderson will occupy some of this time preparing his committee lists, which will be announced as soon as the house convenes after the holidays. Practically no business will be transacted before the holidays.

UNITED STATES TROOPS
GO AROUND THE WORLD.

New York, Dec. 2.—The United States transport Buford arrived from Manila with eight companies of the Twenty-third United States infantry. Companies A to H, 901 enlisted men, non-commissioned staff and band and 37 officers, under command of Colonel J. Milton Thompson. There were also 115 discharged soldiers and government employees on board. The men are a fine, robust lot, in good spirits and glad to get home. The Twenty-third infantry is the first regiment of United States troops to travel around the world.

Nearly 100 Ripped Out of Office.

Pittsburg, Dec. 2.—Recorder J. O. Brown and Senator William Flinn ripped nearly 100 city employees out of place Saturday. The recorder had been in office only six days. Heads dropped from park laborers and firemen to the bureau heads and police inspectors.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.
MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1901.

For the fifty-seventh congress, now
in session, there is work in abundance.
If the session is not a busy one it will be the fault of its members. One of the most important matters to be settled is providing for the construction
of a canal across the isthmus. The treaty lately entered into with Great Britain simplifies matters greatly, removing one of the chief obstacles that
have delayed the undertaking of the work. The trust problem, the proposed reduction of internal revenue taxes,
the suppression of anarchy, legislation to promote and encourage the up-building of an American merchant marine, the authorization of the construction of a Pacific cable, the reciprocity question, revision of the banking laws, river and harbor improvement, reform of the postal laws
and a great many other subjects will demand consideration and action. Our
new insular possessions have added
not a little to the work before our statesmen. The responsibilities and duties of congress grow greater every
year. They cannot be shirked, and should be courageously met. The nation is looking to its legislators to act
like business men. Those who cannot be induced to pursue that course will
be found out and when next they confront their constituents are quietly
to be elected to stay at home.

Hon. R. W. Taylor will not aid the tariff tinkers in congress. Said he to
a Washington interviewer: "My district is one of the largest in manufacturing in the entire country, and we want no revision of the tariff. Take
the pottery work alone. In the last four or five years, since the enactment
of the Dingley bill into law, the productive capacity of these plants has been increased 50 per cent. New factories have been built and additions
made. But the actual production has increased much more than that, for works that had been idle have started up and often night and day forces
have been employed. Probably the aggregate of wages paid in my district
has increased $2,000,000 or $3,000,000
since the Dingley law went into effect."

Because two packages of money
one containing $4,000 and the other
$1,000, which were lost in Chicago,
were restored to their owners, Windy
City newspapers are bragging about
the honesty of the average Chicagoan.
The fact that the occurrence was so
unusual as to call for extended comment does not help them to make out
a very good case.

The prosperous condition of the
pottery industry in East Liverpool is
well shown by the statement of contemplated improvements and additions
to various plants which were detailed
in this paper on Saturday. The principal industry of this city is steadily
growing bigger, and the fact is cause
for public congratulation.

The president, part of his cabinet,
and distinguished officers of the army
and navy witnessed a football contest
on Saturday. After this there should be no dispute as to which of the many
popular sports is the national game.

The early shopper will have his
pick of holiday goods. Shrewd merchants like to promote this early
trade, avoiding some of the final rush,
and therefore plant their advertisements accordingly.

President Roosevelt will now proceed to give congress something to think about. The country is looking

to him for a vigorous and statesman-
like message. It will not be disappointed.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore advises the surplus women of New England to go west. Good idea. If they can cook
and are willing to they can find jobs
and homes without difficulty.

Only three women have ever taken
degrees at the University of Berlin,
and two of them were Americans. Forty more are now there to follow in their footsteps.

William J. Bryan is now writing
anti-expansion articles for his newspaper. Apparently nothing can wean
him from his fondness for dead issues.

to his family and $10,000 for his monument assuredly would never have
got a monument any other way.

The cigarette-smoking boy is a vile
smelling nuisance, and the business
man who likes to have him around
has yet to be heard from.

Deer Live to a Great Age.
Romance has played a prominent part
with regard to the longevity of deer.
What says the highland adage?

Three the age of a dog is that of a horse.
Three the age of a horse is that of a man.
Three the age of a man is that of a deer.
Three the age of a deer is that of an eagle.
Three the age of an eagle is that of an oak tree.
This is to assign the deer a period of
more than 200 years, and the estimate
is supported by many highly circum-
stantial stories. Thus Captain Mc-Donald of Tulloch, who died in 1770,
aged 80 years, is said to have known
the white hind of Loch Tieg for 50
years, his father for a like period before
him and his grandfather for 60 years
before him. So in 1826 MacDonald of Glengarry is reported to have killed a stag which bore a mark on the left ear
identical with that made on all the
calves he could catch by Ewen Mac-Lan-Og, who had been dead 150 years. Analogous stories, it may be noted, are told
in countries on the continent of Europe,
where deer are to be found in any
number.—Chambers' Journal.

Just Like Eve's Apple.
A fruit supposed to bear the mark of Eve's teeth is one of the many botanical curiosities of Ceylon. The tree on which it grows is known by the significant name of "the forbidden fruit," or
"Eve's apple tree."

The blossom has a very pleasant
scent, but the really remarkable feature of the tree, the one to which it
owes its name, is the fruit. It is beautiful and hangs from the tree in a peculiar manner.

Orange on the outside and deep crim-
son within, each fruit has the appearance of having had a piece bitten out
of it. This fact, together with its poisonous quality, led the Mohammedans
to represent it as the forbidden fruit of
the garden of Eden and to warn men
against its noxious properties.

The mark upon the fruit is attributed to Eve. Why the bite of Adam did not
also leave its mark is not known, but
as only one piece seems to be missing
its loss is ascribed to the woman.—
Yotta's Companion.

Bismarck's Philosophy of Life.
With dutiful trust in God, dig in the
spurs and let life, like a wild horse,
take you flying over hedge and ditch,
resolved to break your neck, and yet
fearless, inasmuch as you must some time part from all that is dear to you
on earth, though not forever. If grief
is near, well, let him come on, but until
he arrives do not merely look bright
and blessed, but be it, too, and when
sorrow comes you bear it with dignity
—that is to say, with submission and
hope.—Love Letters of Prince Bismarck.

Grandpa's Pet.
A little boy was sitting on his grand-
father's knee, talking about various things, when grandpa pulled out his watch.

"Grandpa, when you die will you leave that watch for me?" said the boy.

"Well, I don't know—yes, I guess I
will," retorted the old gentleman.

"Well, grandpa, how soon are you
going to die?"—Columbus Dispatch.

A Tougher Mail.
"Excuse me," said the citizen of the plains, "but didn't we ride you out of this town on a rail some ten years
ago?"
"Believe you did," responded the fearless barnstormer.
"Well, look out this time."
"Oh, I am used to traveling by rail."
"That may be, stranger, but we only
have barb wire fences out here now."

SITUATION GETS ALARMING.

Manila Bankers Blame Financial Difficulties on Government's Attempt
to Enforce Exchange Rates.

Manila, Dec. 2.—The financial situation in the Philippine islands was causing considerable alarm. In an interview published in Manila, Henry
C. Ide, chief of the department of finance and justice, referred to the probable enforcement of an alteration in the immediate future of two present government parity of two
Mexican dollars for one gold dollar.
The United States postoffice here now
refuses, except to government employees, to issue money orders in exchange for Mexican silver. The banks of Manila have been making from 6 to 8 per cent on exchange. Merchants
and others are forced to carry their accounts in Mexican silver. The commercial community had relied upon the United States Philippine commission to continue the situation of two Mexican dollars for one gold dollar,
which the commission itself created.
The commission is unable to act in
the matter without the authority of congress. This authorization has been requested.

Manila, Dec. 2.—Mr. Patterson, the Englishman acting as secretary to Sixto Lopez, Aguinaldo's agent, who
refused to take the oath of allegiance
to the United States when he landed
at Manila, is awaiting deportation
from the islands as a result of this refusal. Patterson had been accorded temporary liberty at the request of the British consul at Manila. Patterson, through his lawyers, brought a writ of habeas corpus, returnable tomorrow. The British consul withdrew his protection from Patterson and the latter has been arrested. W. Morgan Shuster, customs collector for the

dence of incriminating correspondence by Patterson and that he has been aiding the Filipino insurrection.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1901.

For the fifty-seventh congress, now
in session, there is work in abundance.
If the session is not a busy one it will be the fault of its members. One of
the most important matters to be settled is providing for the construction
of a canal across the isthmus. The
treaty lately entered into with Great Britain simplifies matters greatly, re-
moving one of the chief obstacles that
have delayed the undertaking of the
work. The trust problem, the proposed reduction of internal revenue taxes,
the suppression of anarchy, legislation to promote and encourage the up-building of an American merchant marine, the authorization of the construction of a Pacific cable, the
reciprocity question, revision of the
banking laws, river and harbor improvement, reform of the postal laws
and a great many other subjects will
demand consideration and action. Our
new insular possessions have added
not a little to the work before our
statesmen. The responsibilities and
duties of congress grow greater every
year. They cannot be shirked, and
should be courageously met. The nation is looking to its legislators to act
like business men. Those who cannot
be induced to pursue that course will
be found out and when next they confront their constituents are quite likely
to be elected to stay at home.

Hon. R. W. Taylor will not aid the tariff tinkers in congress. Said he to
a Washington interviewer: "My district is one of the largest in manufacturing in the entire country, and we want no revision of the tariff. Take
the pottery work alone. In the last
four or five years, since the enactment
of the Dingley bill into law, the productive capacity of these plants has
been increased 50 per cent. New factories have been built and additions
made. But the actual production has
increased much more than that, for
works that had been idle have started up and often night and day forces
have been employed. Probably the aggregate of wages paid in my district
has increased $2,000,000 or $3,000,000
since the Dingley law went into effect."

Because two packages of money
one containing $4,000 and the other
$1,000, which were lost in Chicago,
were restored to their owners, Windy
City newspapers are bragging about
the honesty of the average Chicagoan.
The fact that the occurrence was so
unusual as to call for extended comment does not help them to make out
a very good case.

The prosperous condition of the
pottery industry in East Liverpool is
well shown by the statement of contemplated improvements and additions
to various plants which were detailed
in this paper on Saturday. The principal industry of this city is steadily
growing bigger, and the fact is cause
for public congratulation.

The president, part of his cabinet
and distinguished officers of the army
and navy witnessed a football contest
on Saturday. After this there should
be no dispute as to which of the many
popular sports is the national game.

The early shopper will have his
pick of holiday goods. Shrewd merchants like to promote this early
trade, avoiding some of the final rush,
and therefore plant their advertise-
ments accordingly.

President Roosevelt will now proceed to give congress something to think about. The country is looking

to him for a vigorous and statesman-
like message. It will not be disappointed.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore advises the
surplus women of New England to
go west. Good idea. If they can cook
and are willing to they can find jobs
and homes without difficulty.

Only three women have ever taken
degrees at the University of Berlin,
and two of them were Americans. Fortunately more are now there to follow
in their footsteps.

William J. Bryan is now writing
anti-expansion articles for his newspaper. Apparently nothing can wean
him from his fondness for dead issues.

to his family and $19,000 for his monument assuredly would never have
got a monument any other way.

The cigarette-smoking boy is a vile
smelling nuisance, and the business
man who likes to have him around
has yet to be heard from.

Deer Live to a Great Age.

Romance has played a prominent part
with regard to the longevity of deer.
What says the highland adage?

Thrice the age of a dog is that of a horse,
Thrice the age of a horse is that of a man,
Thrice the age of a man is that of a deer,
Thrice the age of a deer is that of an eagle,
Thrice the age of an eagle is that of an oak tree.

This is to assign the deer a period of
more than 200 years, and the estimate
is supported by many highly circum-
stantial stories. Thus Captain Mc-Donald of Tulloch, who died in 1775,
aged 86 years, is said to have known
the white hind of Loch Tieg for 50
years, his father for a like period before
him and his grandfather for 60 years
before him. So in 1826 MacDonald of Glenarry is reported to have killed a
stag which bore a mark on the left ear
identical with that made on all the
calves he could catch by Ewen Mac-Lan-og, who had been dead 150 years. Analogous stories. It may be noted, are told
in countries on the continent of Europe,
number.—Chambers' Journal.

Just Like Eve's Apple.

A fruit supposed to bear the mark of Eve's teeth is one of the many botanical curiosities of Ceylon. The tree on which it grows is known by the significant name of "the forbidden fruit," or
"Eve's apple tree."

The blossom has a very pleasant
scent, but the really remarkable feature of the tree, the one to which it
owes its name, is the fruit. It is beautiful and hangs from the tree in a peculiar manner.

Orange on the outside and deep crim-
son within, each fruit has the appearance of having had a piece bitten out
of it. This fact, together with its poisonous quality, led the Mohammedans
to represent it as the forbidden fruit of
the garden of Eden and to warn men
against its noxious properties.

The mark upon the fruit is attributed
to Eve. Why the bite of Adam did not
also leave its mark is not known, but
as only one piece seems to be missing
its loss is ascribed to the woman.—

Bismarck's Philosophy of Life.

With dutiful trust in God, dig in the
spurs and let life, like a wild horse,
take you flying over hedge and ditch,
resolved to break your neck, and yet
fearless, inasmuch as you must some
time part from all that is dear to you
on earth, though not forever. If grief
is near, well, let him come on, but until
he arrives do not merely look bright
and blessed, but be it, too, and when
sorrow comes you bear it with dignity
—that is to say, with submission and
hope.—Love Letters of Prince Bismarck.

Grandpa's Pet.

A little boy was sitting on his grand-
father's knee, talking about various
things, when grandpa pulled out his
watch.

"Grandpa, when you die will you
leave that watch for me?" said the
boy.

"Well, I don't know—yes, I guess I
will," retorted the old gentleman.

"Well, grandpa, how soon are you
going to die?"—Columbus Dispatch.

A Tougher Rail.

"Excuse me," said the citizen of the
plains, "but didn't we ride you out of this town on a rail some ten years
ago?"

"Believe you did," responded the
fearless barnstormer.

"Well, look out this time."

"Oh, I am used to traveling by rail."

"That may be, stranger, but we only
have barb wire fences out here now."

Manila Bankers Blame Financial Difficulties on Government's Attempt
to Enforce Exchange Rates.

Manila, Dec. 2.—The financial situation in the Philippine islands was causing considerable alarm. In an interview published in Manila, Henry
C. Ide, chief of the department of finance and justice, referred to the
probable enforcement of an alteration in the immediate future of the present government parity of two
Mexican dollars for one gold dollar.
The United States postoffice here now
refuses, except to government employees, to issue money orders in exchange for Mexican silver. The banks
of Manila have been making from 6 to 8 per cent on exchange. Merchants
and others are forced to carry their
accounts in Mexican silver. The commercial community had relied upon the United States Philippine commission to continue the situation of two Mexican dollars for one gold dollar,
which the commission itself created.
The commission is unable to act in
the matter without the authority of
congress. This authorization has
been requested.

Manila, Dec. 2.—Mr. Patterson, the Englishman acting as secretary to Sixto Lopez, Aguinaldo's agent, who
refused to take the oath of allegiance
to the United States when he landed
at Manila, is awaiting deportation
from the islands as a result of this refusal. Patterson had been accorded temporary liberty at the request of
the British consul at Manila. Patterson, through his lawyers, brought a
writ of habeas corpus, returnable tomorrow. The British consul withdrew
his protection from Patterson and the latter has been arrested. W. Morgan

dence of incriminating correspondence

SOUTH SIDE READY TO START ON WEDNESDAY

Part of the Chester Tin Plant to Go Into Operation This Week.

THREE MILLS TO BE RUN

Things Being Shaped for Having the Whole Ten Mills in Operation By January 1—Chester People Are Rejoiced at the Outlook.

An official of the American Tin Plate company informed a News Review reporter this morning that three mills of the Chester plant would start operation next Wednesday morning. District Manager Banfield, of Beaver Pa., was expected to arrive today and will supervise the work until everything runs smoothly.

There are 10 mills to be operated when all is in readiness. The mills to be started Wednesday are Nos. 6, 7 and 8. This morning two furnaces, one producer and the largest engine were tested and found to be in excellent condition. The tin house on the west of the mills is nearing completion, all of the larger stacks being finished and the smaller ones under construction.

The number of tin workers commencing Wednesday will not be many, but in a short time it is estimated that there will be employment furnished for 700 men and over 100 girls and women. By January 1, all of the mills will be completed, providing workmen are not delayed getting material.

Chester people were all happy today over the outlook.

WILL NOT CONTEST

Big Concerns Decide to Pay Their Tax Assessed in Chester.

Taylor, Smith & Taylor, of the Chester pottery; Edwin Knowles, of the China Works, and the American Tin Plate Company notified Collector Allison last Saturday that they would not contest their tax assessment and would pay it immediately.

Mr. Allison states that these companies have one week in which to settle and if not they will be placed on the delinquent tax list. The taxes of these companies will amount to $500.

CHESTER NOTES.

Miss Alice Swearingen, who has been the guest of Miss Bessie Swearingen, departed for her home in Beaver yesterday.

Charles Mercer, employed as helper blacksmith for the American Bridge company, had his fingers mashed Saturday. The injuries will not be serious.

CHESTER MILL ITEMS.

Richard Banfield will be foreman of the cold roll department in the mill. William householder, general superintendent of the mill, made a business trip to Irondale today.

A steam pipe line is being placed from the boilers to the cold rolls by the Best Manufacturing company of Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh Construction company is building an elevated railroad to carry coal from the yards to the boiler works and mills.

Charles A. Betz, foreman of the structural iron workers, will have finished his contract for the American Tin Plate company within two weeks and will leave for Irondale to erect a mill for the same company.

Lisbon, December 2.—(Special)—The infirmary has two new inmates from East Liverpool. Thomas Sherwood, 62, and Frank Spivey, 42. Spivey is said to have gone through with a big fortune.

Roofs and Chimneys.

There is no doubt but the form of a roof has much to do with the draft of a chimney. The flat roof offers no resistance to the passage of air, but as the pitch is increased the current is more and more disturbed until it is broken into innumerable eddies, some of which are sure to curl down and force the smoke and gases in the flue into the rooms below. Chimneys on such roofs should be built higher than ordinary.

PREPARING TO SHIP MUCH ORE

Pittsburg Holders of Mining Securities in Northwest Are Improving for the Future.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 2.—The Union Steel Company, of Pittsburgh, has taken a lease of the old Volunteer Hematite mine, at Palmer, Marquette range, where there are large quantities of low grade ores. The mine will be taken over December 3, and will be under way at once in preparation for active exploration and for something in the way of shipment another season. The mine was idle 19 years previous to 1900, when it was worked for a few months by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company.

Messrs. Snyder and Oliver, Pittsburgh steel men, who have a Mesaba range property, are now opening it and will ship at least 100,000 tons next year. They are sinking a four-compartment shaft and a heavy machinery equipment has been set up. Railway lines are now being surveyed to the mine and a contract for construction will be let in a few days. The line will be about five miles long.

James & Laughlin are sinking two shafts in section 4, T. 58, R. 17, and will open a mine there at once, from which they will ship heavily next year. Numerous mine buildings are under way. The main shaft is four-compartment and it will sink 300 feet. A large stock pile ground has been cleared off for this winter's use.

The Sharon Steel Company that last year opened a mine in T. 58, R. 19, is now extending the limits of the known body of ore by drilling operations.

There are now known to be between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 tons of ore in the mine, which was purchased a year ago. The shipments for the coming year will be about 250,000 tons, all of which will be used by the Sharon Steel company. The Republic Iron and Steel Company has shipped about 125,000 tons from its Mesaba range mines during the year and is now stocking for next year, when shipments will be considerably larger. The company's two mines on the Marquette range have shipped this year about 175,000 tons.

The Oliver Iron Mining Company (United States Steel Corporation) is developing several important mines upon the Mesabian range, and expect in a year or two to make a very large tonnage out of them. The Chapin Mining Company (United States Steel Corporation), has lined the pump chamber, 700 feet underground, with a steel shell 60 feet by 24 by 18. More than $200,000 has been spent in making betterments to the big mine.

WELLSVILLE

PAT AS HIS TEXT

REV. L. C. WELLS PREACHED A SERMON ON A SALOON MAN.

Taking Fitzpatrick As a Type He Bitterly Assailed the Liquor Men.

The Methodist Protestant church was filled to its utmost capacity last night. The immediate cause was the fact that the subject preached upon by Rev. Lemoine C. Wells, pastor of the church, was one of interest to all classes of people. The text was, "This Place Keeps Pat."

This subject would apparently indicate that the sermon would have been solely on Pat Fitzgerald, who is the proprietor of three saloons in Wellsville, and whose saloon above Tenth street is made conspicuous by a sign, bearing the above legend. Rev. Mr. Wells said, however, that it was not his intention to discuss Mr. Fitzgerald any more than any other man in the saloon business and that his reason for such a unique text was that he thought it the most immodest, insulting, demoralizing, audacious, corruptible sign that he had ever seen displayed.

His remarks at first were of a general nature, pointing out the evils, crimes, poverty, degradation and the astounding death list as the result of the saloon. In reference to Mr. Fitzpatrick he said:

"That gentleman, as well as all other saloonists of Wellsville, are permitted to run their business by the ordinances and laws of the city and state and that these ordinances were continually being abused."

This fact he did not credit to the enforcement of the laws by the city officials. He also used Mr. Fitzpatrick as a type of the Wellsville saloonist, accusing him of running a strictly illegitimate business, his saloon open every morning before the lawful time, while every Sunday an entrance could be made at the back door.

The scriptural text, "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap" is applicable to him, said Mr. Wells, only in a different form—"A man that soweth sparks, shall reap hell."

Mr. Wells denied that his object in discussing the temperance question was the idea of making it a feature in the coming spring election.

CROPPING IN DARKNESS

People Going to Church Found Main Street in Total Eclipse.

On Sunday evening between 6 and 7 there are more people on the streets of Wellsville than at any other time during the week. The reason is that the majority of the citizens are at that time wending their way toward the churches. These people often have to grope in utter darkness.

BURGLARS RAID ALLIANCE.

Enter Two Houses, Hold Up Several People—Probably Escape in Stolen Buggy.

Alliance, O., Dec. 2.—Three masked burglars entered the residence of Mrs. Margaret Teeters, widow of Richard W. Teeters, who was president of the First National bank here. Mrs. Teeters sleeps on the first floor, and upon being awakened was confronted by a revolver in the hands of one of the men. The other two ransacked the house, and finding little of value told Mrs. Teeters that they would try the home of ex-State Senator Silas J. Williams, next door. The one man remained on the watch with Mrs. Teeters, while the other went to the Williams home and, prying up a window, entered.

The men then went back to the Teeters home and continued their search. Carl Teeters and Superintendent Lowe, of the Alliance Gas and Electric company, returned from a social function. Lowe went up the front steps and to his room, not aware that the house was in the hands of the robbers. Carl Teeters walked through the house and met the men. They covered him with a revolver and took his watch and about $15 in money. They then left, taking an overcoat and several hats. Mr. Teeters notified Mr. Lowe, who in turn ran to the patrol station and gave the alarm.

Lawrence Cavanaugh, bartender at the "Belmont," a saloon in North Arch avenue, was called to the door and confronted by four men, who relieved him of a gold watch and some change. Although covered by a revolver he shouted for help. A crowd of young men, hearing the call, ran toward the place where the sound came. They were in turn met by the four robbers, who, with drawn revolvers, searched their pockets. John Snyder was relieved of his watch. The other men claim to have lost nothing.

The robbers then started to run and got a good start on Officer Robert Green, who happened to be in the neighborhood at the time. Green fired at the men, but they escaped. A horse and buggy was taken from the stable of Garry Ely, two miles northwest of this city, presumably by the burglars.

THREE PERSONS PERISHED.

Result of a Collision of Ferryboats at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Dec. 2.—So far as it can be determined only three lives were lost in the collision between the ferryboats San Rafael and Sausalito Saturday night.

Those drowned were: W. G. Crandall, secretary of the Long Syrup works. George Tredway, a waiter on the San Rafael, and a 3-year-old son of Mrs. Waller, of Ross Valley. The body of Crandall was washed ashore at Angel Island yesterday. In the panic that followed after the boats collided about 20 passengers were more or less injured. A great many were cut when crawling through the cabin windows.

Part of the Chester Tin Plant to Go Into Operation This Week.

THREE MILLS TO BE RUN

Things Being Shaped for Having the Whole Ten Mills in Operation By January 1—Chester People Are Rejoiced at the Outlook.

An official of the American Tin Plate company informed a News Review reporter this morning that three mills of the Chester plant would start operation next Wednesday morning. District Manager Banfield, of Beaver Pa., was expected to arrive today and will supervise the work until everything runs smoothly.

There are 10 mills to be operated when all is in readiness. The mills to be started Wednesday are Nos. 6, 7 and 8. This morning two furnaces, one producer and the largest engine were tested and found to be in excellent condition. The tin house on the west of the mills is nearing completion, all of the larger stacks being finished and the smaller ones under construction.

The number of tin workers commencing Wednesday will not be many, but in a short time it is estimated that there will be employment furnished for 700 men and over 100 girls and women. By January 1, all of the mills will be completed, providing workmen are not delayed getting material.

Chester people were all happy today over the outlook.

Big Concerns Decide to Pay Their Tax Assessed in Chester.

Taylor, Smith & Taylor, of the Chester pottery; Edwin Knowles, of the China Works, and the American Tin Plate Company notified Collector Allison last Saturday that they would not contest their tax assessment and would pay it immediately.

Mr. Allison states that these companies have one week in which to settle and if not they will be placed on the delinquent tax list. The taxes of these companies will amount to $500.

CHESTER NOTES.

L. E. Williams will visit Pittsburg friends this week.

G. A. Arner will make a business visit to Pittsburg tomorrow.

Mrs. Mary Lewis, of West Liberty, is visiting Dr. George E. Lewis and family.

Mrs. Edgar Pauley returned yesterday from a visit with Pittsburg friends.

Mrs. Carnahan, of Williamstown, is the guest of her son, Rev. H. M. Carnahan and family.

Miss Alice Swearingen, who has been the guest of Miss Bessie Swearingen, departed for her home in Beaver yesterday.

CHESTER MILL ITEMS.

Richard Banfield will be foreman of the cold roll department in the mill. William Householder, general superintendent of the mill, made a business trip to Ironside today.

A steam pipe line is being placed from the boilers to the cold rolls by the Best Manufacturing company of Pittsburg.

The Pittsburg Construction company is building an elevated railroad to carry coal from the yards to the bolted works and mills.

Charles A. Betz, foreman of the structural iron workers, will have finished his contract for the American Tin Plate company within two weeks and will leave for Ironside to erect a mill for the same company.

WEDGWOOD LODGE

Sons of St. George Will Install Officers And Hold a Social.

There will be an installation, smoker and social for the members of Josiah Wedgwood lodge, Sons of St. George, next Wednesday night in their hall in the Diamond. Supreme President Kenworthy will deliver an address and D. D. Frank Gallimore will install the following officers:

President, Thomas Watkins, Jr.; vice president, Albert Pierce; secretary, Cyrus Bayley; treasurer, W. C. Smith; messenger, James Rigby; assistant secretary, A. C. Townley; trustees Herbert Bloor, Joseph Barlow and Samuel Hancock.

The program for the social includes: Opening, Chairman H. Bloor; song, Chris Horton; recitation, F. R. Burchell; address, Brother J. Kenworthy; song, Joseph Steele; recitation, James Barlow; song, John Garner; recitation, James Massey; address, Chris Horton; song, Joseph Steele; recitation, F. R. Burchell; refreshments; closing ode.

Fifteen New Members.

McKinley Home, No. 75, Home Guard of America, held a good meeting Wednesday evening, when it initiated six candidates and acted on seven applications, making a class for the next meeting of 15 to be obligated. After the home was closed a box social was held, which was enjoyed by all, besides making a nice little sum for the benefit fund of the local home.

Sues the Gas Company.

Lisbon, December 2.—(Special)—Horace B. Nicholson, as trustee for the creditors of the Valley Gas company, of Wellsville, has sued that company for various indebtedness. The petition contains no less than 34 orders of action.

Two New Inmates.

Lisbon, December 2.—(Special)—The infirmary has two new inmates from East Liverpool. Thomas Sherwood, 62, and Frank Spivey, 42. Spivey is said to have gone through with a big fortune.

Roofs and Chimneys.

There is no doubt but the form of a roof has much to do with the draft of a chimney. The flat roof offers no resistance to the passage of air, but as the pitch is increased the current is more and more disturbed until with a high pitched and many gabled roof it is broken into innumerable eddies, some of which are sure to curl down and force the smoke and gases in the flue into the rooms below. Chimneys on such roofs should be built higher than ordinary.

A Special Occasion.

First Tramp—You order see Bill go in over de fence wit' de bull after him.

Second Tramp—Must have been wuth lookin at.

First Tramp—Say! It wuz de only time I ever seen him when he didn't look tired.—Puck.

PREPARING TO SHIP MUCH ORE

Pittsburg Holders of Mining Securities in Northwest Are Improving for the Future.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 2.—The Union Steel Company, of Pittsburg, has taken a lease of the old Volunteer Homestead mine, at Palmer, Marquette range, where there are large quantities of low grade ores. The mine will be taken over December 1, and will be unwatered at once in preparation for active exploration and for something in the way of shipment another season. The mine was idle 10 years previous to 1900, when it was worked for a few months by the Cleveland Cuts Iron Company.

Messrs. Snyder and Oliver, Pittsburg steel men, who have a Mesaba range property, are now opening it and will ship at least 100,000 tons next year. They are sinking a four-compartment shaft and a heavy machinery equipment has been set up. Railway lines are now being surveyed to the mine and a contract for construction will be let in a few days. The line will be about five miles long.

Jones & Laughlin are sinking two shafts in section 4, T. 58 R. 17, and will open a mine there at once, from which they will ship heavily next year. Numerous buildings are under way.

The main shaft is four-compartment and it will sink 300 feet. A large stock pile ground has been cleared off for this winter's use.

The Sharon Steel Company that last year opened a mine in T. 58, R. 19, is now extending the limits of the known body of ore by drilling operations.

There are now known to be between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 tons of ore in the mine, which was purchased a year ago. The shipments for the coming year will be about 250,000 tons, all of which will be used by the Sharon Steel company.

The Republic Iron and Steel Company has shipped about 125,000 tons from its Mesaba range mines during the year and is now stocking for next year, when shipments will be considerably larger. The company's two mines on the Marquette range have shipped this year about 175,000 tons.

The Oliver Iron Mining Company (United States Steel Corporation) is developing several important mines upon the Menominee range, and expect in a year or two to make a very large tonnage out of them.

The Chapin Mining Company (United States Steel Corporation), has lined the pump chamber, 700 feet underground, with a steel shell 60 feet by 224 by 18. More than 200,000 has been spent in making betterments to the big mine.

REV. L. C. WELLS PREACHED A SERMON ON A SALOON MAN.

Taking Fitzpatrick As a Type He Bitterly Assailed the Liquor Men.

The Methodist Protestant church was filled to its utmost capacity last night. The immediate cause was the fact that the subject preached upon by Rev. Lemoine C. Wells, pastor of the church, was one of interest to all classes of people. The text was, "This Place Keeps Pat."

This subject would apparently indicate that the sermon would have been solely on Pat Fitzgerald, who is the proprietor of three saloons in Wellsville, and whose saloon above Tenth street is made conspicuous by a sign, bearing the above legend. Decrease In Drunkenness In the Regular Army

By Surgeon General STERNBERG, U. S. A.

THE steady decrease of late years in the hospital admissions for alcoholism among the men of the regular army is a matter for congratulation. MILITARY OFFICERS MAY BE SAID TO BE UNANIMOUS IN THEIR OPINION THAT THIS WAS MAINLY THE RESULT OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE POST EXCHANGE OR CANTEEN AT MILITARY POSTS. There is less drunkenness among troops in active service than in a command doing garrison duty in the times of peace.

Lighting Up the Coliseum.

The Romans have the hideous habit of periodically lighting the Coliseum during the tourist season with Bengal lights and, what is more amazing still, usually succeed in making a financial success of it, although no one was ever known to go twice.

There is the additional abomination in these days of a big brass band and a chorus of 100 voices in an invocation to the Flavian amphitheater. The effect is tremendous, but somewhat stunning to those who are accustomed to their Coliseum empty and flooded with peaceful moonlight, where pictures from the past rise with the clearness of second sight, and no sound is heard but one's own breathing or the song of the nightingale. Contrast with such a scene the red, blue and yellow Bengal lights, the smoke, the confusion, the hundred shrieking throats and the clang of the brazen instruments! Imagination shrinks and curses the Roman of today with whom such a thing is possible. But is it his fault? As I said before, it is a great financial success, and the Italians certainly do not patronize it. Query, Who does?—Rome Letter in Pall Mall Gazette.

Why Water Won't Fry.

Why cannot we fry in water? Because water can only be heated to the boiling point, 212 degrees, and any additional heat does not increase its temperature. Two hundred and twelve degrees of heat will not brown the surface of anything. Fat, on the contrary, can be made much hotter, the temperature depending on the kind. There is a lesson here for the economical housewife. Don't stuff the stove with fuel when the vegetables, meat, etc., are already boiling. They cook no faster because of the increase of heat.

FIVE VICTIMS OF FIRE.

Mother and Four Children Perished In Their Burning Home, at Altoona.

THE FATHER ESCAPED DEATH.

His Clothing Caught Afire—Woman Holding Little One Appears at Window, Then Falls Back Into Flames. Efforts at Rescue in Vain.

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 2.—Five persons, a mother and her four children, were burned to death at Gwin station, on the Wapenonock railroad, three miles north of this city, in a fire which destroyed her home.

The dead: Mrs. Mary C. Burk, 42 years old. Adam Gustave Burk, 16 years old. Mary E. Burk, 13 years. Johanna Burk, 11 years. Joseph Victor Burk, 8 years old. Carl W. Burk, the husband, is burned about the back, seriously, but not fatally.

Mrs. Burk and the children, save Adam, had retired at the usual hour Saturday night. Mr. Burk, who was in Altoona, did not get home until late. The lamp was burning in the kitchen for him. Before he went upstairs he turned it low. A lunch was left on the table for Adam, who is a stage hand at the Altoona opera house. It is not known what time Adam turned in.

Awakened by Dense Smoke.

About 1:30 o'clock Mrs. Burk was awakened by a dense smoke in her room. She awoke her husband. He dressed hurriedly and hastened downstairs. Opening the kitchen door he found that the room was ablaze. The draft caused by the open door accentuated the fire and with a roar the flames swept through the house.

Burk's clothing was ignited and he sprang outside and rolled in the snow to extinguish the tiny tongues of fire that in a moment were licking painfully at his flesh. He then summoned the assistance of the neighbors. Messrs. Fisher, Thompson and Calvert responding. There was no hope of saving the house when they arrived. To rescue the inmates was impossible, for every time they tried to enter the intense heat drove them back.

Burk in a mad frenzy tried to rush through the flames, but was prevented. It would have been sure death.

Meantime the agonizing screams of the inmates could be heard above the roar of the fire and the crackling of the burning timbers.

For one brief second Mrs. Burk appeared at the upper window. In her arms she carried a child. Then the flames arose around and about her and she sank back and was seen no more.

Burk was mercifully sent away to the hospital about this time, crazed with grief. The house, which was a two-story frame structure, was soon consumed and the search of the ruins commenced. As there was nothing left but the foundation stones, the bodies, charred and blackened, were speedily recovered. They were brought to a morgue in this city.

Robbed Him of Family and Property.

The fire robbed Burk of his family and all his personal property. He is left without a penny. He escaped scantily clothed. He is so destitute that the funeral expenses of his loved ones will have to be borne by the county.

Coroner McCartney Sunday empaneled a jury to investigate the five deaths. Some testimony was taken, after which the jury adjourned until today. The jury will endeavor to ascertain the origin of the fire. The kitchen stove shows evidence of a hot fire, but the general opinion seemed to be that Adam forgot to put out the lamp when he retired and the family dog, in search of something to appease its hunger, upset the lamp.

The loss on the house is $2,000; no insurance.

What remains of the family will be interred today.

LET THE SUN DARE!

HELD ON TRUMPED-UP CHARGES,

Laffan's Malice Apparently Due to Active Part Taken by Major Smith and American Press Association, in Associated Press War on U. P.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Major Orlando J. Smith, president of the American Press Association, 45 Park Place, gave out the following statement concerning his arrest by the New York Sun on a charge of criminal libel.

"I and two employees of the American Press Association, Mr. Fishler and Mr. McNamara, were arrested summarily on Tuesday evening last on a charge of criminal libel made by the New York Sun Printing company. The charge is based on the assumption that the American Press Association stereotyped for the New York Typographical union a statement concerning that union's controversy with the New York Sun and that Mr. Fishler and Mr. McNamara of the American Press Association sold to a detective of the New York Sun for 20 cents a stereotype plate containing the matter referred to.

Do They Fear the Journal?

"Apart from the fact that I had no knowledge of the existence of the Typographical union's article against the Sun until I was arraigned in court on the charge of being criminally responsible for it, this action on the part of the Sun seems peculiar in many respects. The article alleged to be libelous contains the name of its author, who has not been arrested. It is odd that if the article be libelous its author should be ignored by the Sun and the alleged stereotypers held as responsible. Moreover, the Sun has been often assailed in language more violent and with charges much more serious than in the Typographical union article without provoking any action, criminal or civil, by that newspaper. Within the last two months the New York Journal has administered to the Sun a severe castigation in prominent type, continued or repeated through many issues and containing the most serious charges that I have ever known to be made against a newspaper. The Sun did not begin an action against the Journal, nor did it attempt once, I am informed, to answer the charges. That the Sun should ignore this serious and really injurious assault and yet begin a criminal action against people charged with selling to one of the Sun's detectives a piece of stereotype metal is, as I have said, odd and peculiar.

Smith Helped His Defeat.

"The explanation will be found, I believe, in the malice of William M. Laffan of the Sun. His most ambitious project perhaps was the United Press, through which some years ago he sought to control for himself and his associates the general telegraphic press news of the United States. At one time his success was almost complete. In the long and bitter contest between the United Press and Associated Press, I and the association with which I am connected contributed all that we could of time, thought, zeal and cash to the defeat of the United Press, which institution ended its career finally in destruction and bankruptcy. It is probable that no other defeat rankles so much in Mr. Laffan's mind as the failure of the United Press, and that his hatred of the United Press, and that his hatred of those who contributed to its overthrow will never be fully appeased. And so I account for his eagerness to hale me into court on a flimsy charge of criminal libel."

Major Smith made a further statement regarding the hearing, which came off Friday afternoon:

"I and my associates will come up for examination in the criminal court this afternoon at 2 o'clock. If one or all of us should be held for the action of the grand jury, we shall demand an immediate trial of the merits of the case, which, I am informed, we have a right to ask at the preliminary trial. The action against us is peculiar, perhaps without a precedent. It is an action for the libel of the Sun Printing company and really of the Sun newspaper. That the Sun newspaper, known perhaps as the most persistent and malicious libeler and slanderer in all newspaperdom, should itself begin an action for criminal libel is a humorous fact.

"The more interesting phase of the case, however, is this: The character of a newspaper is an open record. It may be difficult to prove or establish in court the real character of an individual. With a newspaper it is different. Its character is determined by what it prints, and its moral history is preserved accurately and minutely in its files.

"The issue to which we shall invite the Sun people if I or one of my associates shall be held on the petty and trumped up charges made against us is this: Has the Sun newspaper any character to be libeled, any good reputation to be injured?

Will Show Up Sun's Record.

"And I promise that the inquiry shall be complete and exhaustive. We shall take the files of the Sun into court and prove from them the record of that newspaper for fairness or unfairness, charity or harshness, kindness or malice, large-mindedness or meanness, sincerity or treachery, honesty or dishonesty, truth or falsehood. We shall inquire also whether the Sun conducts a legitimate business, whether it lives upon its honest earnings through its sales and advertising, or whether it actually does—as is often asserted and perhaps commonly believed—exist through contributions from large moneyed interests. We shall inquire also whether its apostasy to the cause of the laboring and plain people, of which it was formerly the champion (it supported the Populist candidate for president, Benjamin F. Butler, in 1884) has been an honest conversion or inspired by avarice.

DO YOU SEE THE TROUT WHICH HAS JUST BEEN CAUGHT?

"We shall be absolutely fair in our inquiry. We shall invite Mr. Paul Dana to the witness stand to explain his transaction concerning the funeral expenses of General Grant, in which, unless common belief be in error, Paul Dana, the instrument of his father's malice against Grant, hurled a deadly insult against Grant's wife and children over the fresh grave of the old soldier. This incident, so peculiar in its settings, connected with the death of a great figure, will necessarily be historic. It is sometimes referred to as the meanest and most cowardly exhibition of malice and hate known to mankind. Perhaps Mr. Paul Dana's own account of the affair will throw some new light upon it or in some way extenuate his conduct, and we shall give him an opportunity to tell his story on the witness stand.

Libeled the Late President.

"And we shall invite Mr. Laffan to the stand to explain many things, among others the Sun's libels of William McKinley, Mark Hanna, Seth Low, Grover Cleveland and of hundreds of other noted and famous men. And we shall call as many witnesses as the court will admit—whether the number be a hundred, a thousand or ten thousand—to testify concerning the reputation and character of the New York Sun in this community. The inquiry will be thorough, and the exact standing of the Sun will be determined in court. If it be entitled to vindication, it will get it; if it be entitled to condemnation, it will get condemnation.

"Whether the Sun people will welcome this inquiry with the eagerness of conscious innocence seeking vindication or whether they will fly from it, abandon it or try to prevent it by legal subterfuges—as if the Sun were guilty of all the slanders, malice and other meanness which are attributed to it by a very large number of the fair minded people of New York city—is an issue which will be decided promptly in court."

Stock Market Tips.

Does it ever occur to those who follow journalistic tips on the stock market that they are written by men who find it worth their while to follow an arduous and moderately remunerated profession and that therefore the tipster obviously cannot trust to his tips for a livelihood?

Is it conceivable that any one whose judgment of the movements of securities was sufficiently trustworthy to make even the majority of his shots bullseyes would waste his time by compiling paragraphs for newspapers? Would he not rather spend half an hour or so in the morning at the end of a telephone instructing his broker to buy and sell and devote the rest of his day to the graceful consumption of the boundless fortune that his knowledge and acumen would, ex hypothesi, inevitably provide?

And tips from stockbrokers come under the same suspicion, for it is not reasonable to suppose that one who really had tips worth following in his possession would utilize them as baits for clients who reward his efforts with a beggarly half crown per cent.—Coruhill.

Abandoned Cisterns.

An abandoned cistern is often a dangerous thing and should be filled, as stagnant water which may remain in it is a common source of disease. If this cannot be done at once, it is a good plan to throw in proper disinfectants and gradually fill it up with sifted coal ashes.

Egotism of Genius.

A writer in the London Standard declares the idea that genius is usually modest to be a popular delusion. On the contrary, he alleges egotism to be the very essence of true genius and quotes many amusing examples.

When Wordsworth, Southey and Coleridge were walking together and Coleridge remarked that the day was so fine "it might have been ordered for three poets," the gentle Wordsworth promptly exclaimed: "Three poets! Who are the other two?"

Disraeli, then a mere youth, wrote to his sister that he had heard Macaulay, Shell and Grant speak, "but between ourselves I could floor them all." And again he said, "When I want to read a good book, I write one."

Our own Joaquin Miller wrote to Walt Whitman: "You and I are over the head of the rabble. We know we are great, and if other people don't know it it is their own fault."

It was President Grant who, being told that a certain senator, an admitted genius who was very hostile to him, did not believe the Bible, expressed his estimate of the senator's egotism by rejoining: "Why should he? He didn't write it, you know."—New York World.

Buying a Razor.

"I need a new razor," said the man who shaves himself.

"Better let me get it for you," suggested the reformed barber, who, now that he is a trolley car conductor, regards himself as a distinguished member of society. "All cutlery stores are filled with razors of the class known as 'dead ones.' When a barber buys a razor, he takes it with the understanding that he is to try it out, and if it doesn't work well he takes it back and gets another one, keeping this up until he gets one that suits him. Buying a razor, you know, is a lottery in which the prizes are few and far between. When the ordinary citizen goes to a cutlery store, he picks out what he thinks is a good razor, pays for it and takes his chances. He picks one out, too, from the bunch of 'dead ones' that barbers have tried and found wanting. That's why I advise you to let me get it for you. Then if you don't like it I can keep exchanging it until you get a good one. They needn't know I've quit the business."—Philadelphia Record.

The Woollack.

Back during the time of Queen Elizabeth an act of parliament was passed prohibiting the exportation of wool. This product was one of the great sources of the natural wealth of England at that time, and in accordance with the economic notions of the age the authorities attempted to keep it in the country, imagining that if it went abroad, even though something more valuable or desirable were exchanged for it, the country would be the poorer.

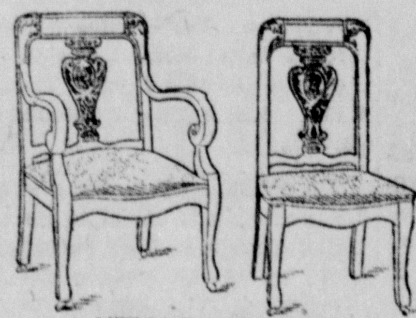

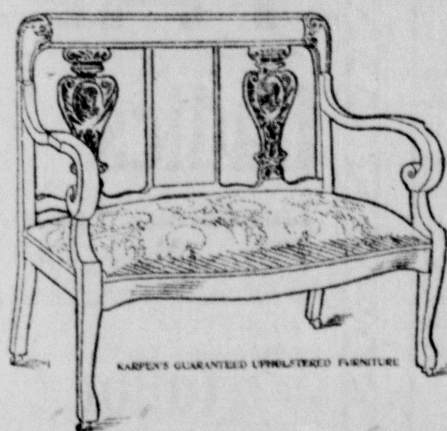

In order to hold the importance of this commodity before the minds of the national legislators woollacks were placed in the house of lords, where the judges sat. Hence the lord chancellor, who presides over the house of lords, "sits on the woollack." The woollack, according to a printed description, is a "large square bag of wool without back or arms and covered with red cloth."

"Faints."

Fusel oil, or "faints," as it is commonly called about the distilleries in England, according to the London Lancet, is a primary amyl alcohol mixed with primary and secondary propyl alcohols. In England it can be obtained gratis at some distilleries. It is used locally as an external application for rheumatism. It is obtained from fermented grain or potatoes by continuing the process of distillation after the ordinary spirit has all "come over." It is an oily liquid, with a burning, acid taste and an odor said to resemble jargonelle pear. It has intoxicating and poisonous properties considerably more powerful than ordinary spirits.

The Applan Way.

The famous Applan way, mentioned by almost every Roman writer, connected the Eternal City with all parts of south Italy. For many miles from Rome the space on each side was filled with sepulchers, many of them of persons distinguished in history. To have a sepulcher on the Applan way was equivalent to being buried in Greenwood, in New York, or Pere la Chaise, in Paris.

LET THE SUN DARE!

Laffan's Malice Apparently Due to Active Part Taken by Major Smith and American Press Association, in Associated Press War on U. P.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Major Orlando J. Smith, president of the American Press Association, 15 Park Place, gave out the following statement concerning his arrest by the New York Sun on a charge of criminal libel:

"I and two employees of the American Press Association, Mr. Fishler and Mr. McNamara, were arrested summarily on Tuesday evening last on a charge of criminal libel made by the New York Sun Printing company. The charge is based on the assumption that the American Press Association stereotyped for the New York Typographical union a statement concerning that union's controversy with the New York Sun and that Mr. Fishler and Mr. McNamara of the American Press Association sold to a detective of the New York Sun for 20 cents a stereotype plate containing the matter referred to.

Do They Fear the Journal?

"Apart from the fact that I had no knowledge of the existence of the Typographical union's article against the Sun until I was arraigned in court on the charge of being criminally responsible for it, this action on the part of the Sun seems peculiar in many respects. The article alleged to be libelous contains the name of its author, who has not been arrested. It is odd that if the article be libelous its author should be ignored by the Sun and the alleged stereotypers held as responsible. Moreover, the Sun has been often assailed in language more violent and with charges much more serious than in the Typographical union article without provoking any action, criminal or civil, by that newspaper. Within the last two months the New York Journal has administered to the Sun a severe investigation in prominent type, continued or repeated through many issues and containing the most serious charges that I have ever known to be made against a newspaper. The Sun did not begin an action against the Journal nor did it attempt to, I am informed, to answer the charges. That the Sun should ignore this serious and really injurious assault and yet begin a criminal action against people charged with selling to one of the Sun's detectives a piece of stereotype metal is, as I have said, odd and peculiar.

Smith Helped His Defeat.

"The explanation will be found, I believe, in the malice of William M. Laffan of the Sun. His most ambitious project perhaps was the United Press, through which some years ago he sought to control for himself and his associates the general telegraphic press news of the United States. At one time his success was almost complete. In the long and bitter contest between the United Press and Associated Press, I and the association with which I am connected contributed all that we could of time, thought, zeal and cash to the defeat of the United Press, which institution ended its career finally in destruction and bankruptcy. It is probable that no other defeat rankles so much in Mr. Laffan's mind as the failure of the United Press, and that his hatred of those who contributed to its overthrow will never be fully appeased. And so I account for his eagerness to hale me into court on a flimsy charge of criminal libel."

Major Smith made a further statement regarding the hearing, which came off Friday afternoon:

"I and my associates will come up for examination in the criminal court this afternoon at 2 o'clock. If one or all of us should be held for the action of the grand jury, we shall demand an immediate trial of the merits of the case, which, I am informed, we have a right to ask at the preliminary trial. The action against us is peculiar, perhaps without a precedent. It is an action for the libel of the Sun Printing company and really of the Sun newspaper. In a Serious Condition—Mrs. William H. Boulton, formerly of this city now of Cleveland, has been in a hospital in that city for some time, suffering from the effects of a tumor at the base of the brain. She is now at home, her case being regarded as incurable.

Lecture for the Turners—The executive committee of the Turner society has arranged for a lecture to be given by Dr. Crahan at Turner hall Dec. 9. The gentleman is this week conducting a series of lectures in Pittsburgh. His subject will be "The Heroic Age in America."

A Long Lost Cow—William Brannick, of Mingo, was in East Liverpool today, looking for a cow which was stolen from him while he was living at Mill Creek January 1, 1901. He suspected a man who had visited him, and who, it was said, had been seen driving a cow toward this city. Chief Thompson promised to investigate.

A Dangerous Practice—The trainmen on the shifter which works in the upper yards are much annoyed by small boys who jump on and off the train. It is impossible for the men to attend to their duties and watch the lads. They say it would be a good idea for an officer to keep watch, capture and arrest one or two of the boys and thus break up the practice.

Sleepy Grass.

Sleepy grass is found in New Mexico, Texas and Siberia. It has a most injurious effect on horses and sheep, being a strong narcotic or sedative and causing profound sleep or stupor lasting twenty-four to forty-eight hours. A horse after eating it is a pitiable object, its head and tail drooping, its body quivering and sweat pouring down its sides.

PUBLIC LIBRARY IS VERY POPULAR

The Institution Not Only Self-Sustaining, But Able to Add New Books.

ONE RECENT DONATION

Included 300 Volumes And a Recent Purchase of 82—Some of the Standard Works Which Are Now Open to Patrons' Use.

The East Liverpool public library is rapidly becoming one of the best patronized and most popular resorts in the city.

When the institution was established several years ago, mainly through the moral and financial support given it by the local Trades and Labor Council, those who were placed in charge found it no easy task to make the venture self sustaining. Indeed, in the early days of its existence it was necessary on several occasions for the organization which fathered the movement to make substantial donations to sustain it.

These trouble are now a matter of history, as the institution has been going ahead at such a rate that those in charge have been enabled to add many valuable and interesting works recently. Besides, a number of philanthropic gentlemen have donated liberally. The latest addition comes from a Mr. Richmond, of Meadville, Pa., who donated 300 volumes. These, with 82 volumes recently purchased, make it necessary to increase the case capacity and 18 units of a combination case will be put in this week. So much annoyance has been occasioned by careless patrons that it has been determined after the first of the present month not to permit any one to handle the contents of the various cases. This rule will be rigidly enforced by Miss McLane, the librarian in charge.

Following is the report of the librarian for the month of November: Afternoon readers, 76; evening readers, 139; total, 215.

Visitors, 209; books loaned, 335; persons using reference books, 30; monthly attendance, 789; yearly membership, 3; half-yearly membership, 3; quarterly membership, 22; total, 28.

Money received from yearly membership, $3; money received from half yearly membership, $1.50; money received from quarterly membership, $5.50; total, $10; librarian's monthly expense, $1.80.

Number of books donated, 200; number of books purchased, 82; total, 282; books on shelves November 30, 1901, 2,227.

Following is a list of the latest consignment of books, showing excellent judgment in the selection of interesting and instructive reading matter:

The Wilderness Road, The Helmet of Navarre, The Forty-five Guardsmen, Resurrection, The Martian, The Bath

Comedy, The Crisis, Sir Christopher, Tarry Thou Till I Come, Graustark, The Career of a Beauty, Captain Ravenshaw, The History of Josephine, The History of Hortense, History of Louise Philippe, History of King Philip, History of Henry the Fourth, History of Margaret of Aragon, History of King Richard the Second, History of Xerxes the Great, D'Art and I, In the Name of a Woman, The Right of Way, Richard Yea-and-Nay, The Man From Glengarry, Mistress Barbara, Edward Blake, Richard Bruce, The Twentieth Door, John King's Question Class, Robert Hardy's Seven Days, Dross, Thelma, Mr. Dooley in Peace and In War, Second Thoughts of an Idle Fellow, The Road to Paris, The Successors of Mary the First, The Crow's Nest, Quincy Adams, Sawyer, The Landlord at Lion's Head, Blennerhassett, The Eternal City, The Puppet Crown, Lord's of the North, War's Brighter Side, A Pair of Patient Lovers, Etidorpha, The Heritage of Unrest, The Octopus, Joscelyn Cheshire, The Good Red Earth, Betsey Ross, A Daughter of New France, The Jesuits, The Arrows of the Almighty, Every Inch a King, Knights In Rustian, Another Woman's Territory, The Supreme Crime, Milly, Sirius, The God of His Fathers, When Blades Are Out Love's Afield, The Heiress of the Forest, The Damnation of Theron Ware, With Edged Tools, Ziska, The Pride of Jennico, The Irony of Life, Caleb West, A Singular Life, By the Rivers of Babylon, Understudies, The Tower of Wye, A Carolina Cavalier, Your Uncle Lew, The Cardinal's Rose, The Silver Skull, A War-Time Wooing, The Sky Pilot, Lysbeth, Heather's Mistress.

"Henry IX."

It is interesting to recall that, just as Edward VII of England chose his second baptismal name as the one by which he wished to be designated when he mounted the throne, so likewise his great-uncle, William Henry, would have preferred to be known as Henry IX. One of the reasons for this preference was the desire to establish lawful right to a title which had already been arrogated by the cardinal of York, the last of the Stuart pretenders. When the question, however, came up for discussion in the privy council, the latter decided in favor of King William IV. This story was told by the king himself to Miss Helen Lloyd, the governess of his children. He added that the privy council was moved to this choice partly by fear of exciting the superstitious fears of the populace, who still bore in their memory a prophecy dating from the seventeenth century, which runs as follows: Henry the Eighth pulled down monks and their cells; Henry the Ninth shall pull down bishops and bells.

When Children Smoked.

Jorevin de Rochefort, who published in Paris in 1671 an account of his travels in England, tells the following: "While we were walking about the town (Worcester) he asked me if it was the custom in France as in England that when the children went to school they carried in their satchel with their books a pipe of tobacco, which their mothers took care to fill early in the morning, it serving them instead of breakfast, and that at the accustomed hour every one laid aside his book to light his pipe, the master smoking with them and teaching them how to hold their pipes and draw in the tobacco."

In England at the time of the great plague it was reported that no one living in a tobaccoist's house fell sick of the disease. This caused a great demand for tobacco. Hearne says in his diary, "I remember that I heard formerly Tom Rogers, who was yeoman beadle, say that when he was a school-boy at Eton that year when the plague raged all the boys of that school were obliged to smoke every morning and that he was never whipped so much in his life as he was one morning for not smoking."

A Garden of Milk.

The Milk garden of Frankfurt, reserved for the children of that aristocratic city, is in itself one of the most democratic of places. Here rich people who wish to be relieved for a time of the presence of their children send them, accompanied by their nurses. Here also poor people who can neither afford to devote their own time to their children nor hire separate nurses for them may bring their little ones, certain that from the garden nurses they will receive all the care and attention necessary to safety, health and amusement.

Private nurses of the rich people and public nurses of the working people are subject to a supervision sufficient to protect the children of all classes from cruelty and neglect. The only food furnished in the garden is milk, whose freshness and purity are assured, inasmuch as it is drunk warm from the mild eyed cows which occupy stalls on one edge of the field.

In a Serious Condition—Mrs. William H. Boulton, formerly of this city now of Cleveland, has been in a hospital in that city for some time, suffering from the effects of a tumor at the base of the brain. She is now at home, her case being regarded as incurable.

Lecture for the Turners—The executive committee of the Turner society has arranged for a lecture to be given by Dr. Crahan at Turner hall Dec. 9. The gentleman is this week conducting a series of lectures in Pittsburgh. His subject will be "The Heroic Age in America."

A Long Lost Cow—William Brannick, of Mingo, was in East Liverpool today, looking for a cow which was stolen from him while he was living at Mill Creek January 1, 1901. He suspected a man who had visited him, and who, it was said, had been seen driving a cow toward this city. Chief Thompson promised to investigate.

A Dangerous Practice—The trainmen on the shifter which works in the upper yards are much annoyed by small boys who jump on and off the train. It is impossible for the men to attend to their duties and watch the lads. They say it would be a good idea for an officer to keep watch, capture and arrest one or two of the boys and thus break up the practice.

Sleepy Grass.

Sleepy grass is found in New Mexico, Texas and Siberia. It has a most injurious effect on horses and sheep, being a strong narcotic or sedative and causing profound sleep or stupor lasting twenty-four to forty-eight hours. A horse after eating it is a pitiable object, its head and tail drooping, its body quivering and sweat pouring down its sides.

PUBLIC LIBRARY IS VERY POPULAR

ONE RECENT DONATION

Included 300 Volumes And a Recent Purchase of 82—Some of the Standard Works Which Are Now Open to Patrons' Use.

The East Liverpool public library is rapidly becoming one of the best patronized and most popular resorts in the city.

When the institution was established several years ago, mainly through the moral and financial support given it by the local Trades and Labor Council, those who were placed in charge found it no easy task to make the venture self sustaining. Indeed, in the early days of its existence it was necessary on several occasions for the organization which fathered the movement to make substantial donations to sustain it.

These troubles are now a matter of history, as the institution has been going ahead at such a rate that those in charge have been enabled to add many valuable and interesting works recently. Besides, a number of philanthropic gentlemen have donated liberally. The latest addition comes from a Mr. Richmond, of Meadville, Pa., who donated 300 volumes. These, with 82 volumes recently purchased, make it necessary to increase the case capacity and 18 units of a combination case will be put in this week. So much annoyance has been occasioned by careless patrons that it has been determined after the first of the present month not to permit any one to handle the contents of the various cases. This rule will be rigidly enforced by Miss McLane, the librarian in charge.

Afternoon readers, 76; evening readers, 139; total, 215.
Visitors, 209; books loaned, 335; persons using reference books, 30; monthly attendance, 789; yearly membership, 3; half-yearly membership, 3; quarterly membership, 22; total, 28.

Money received from yearly membership, $3; money received from half yearly membership, $1.50; money received from quarterly membership, $5.50; total, $10; librarian's monthly expense, $1.80.

Number of books donated, 200; number of books purchased, 82; total, 282; books on shelves November 30, 1901, 2,227.

"Henry IX."
It is interesting to recall that, just as Edward VII of England chose his second baptismal name as the one by which he wished to be designated when he mounted the throne, so likewise his great-uncle, William Henry, would have preferred to be known as Henry IX. One of the reasons for this preference was the desire to establish lawful right to a title which had already been arrogated by the cardinal of York, the last of the Stuart pretenders. When the question, however, came up for discussion in the privy council, the latter decided in favor of King William IV. This story was told by the king himself to Miss Helen Lloyd, the governess of his children. He added that the privy council was moved to this choice partly by fear of exciting the superstitious fears of the populace, who still bore in their memory a prophecy dating from the seventeenth century, which runs as follows: Henry the Eighth pulled down monks and their cells;
Henry the Ninth shall pull down bishops and bells.

When Children Smoked.

Jorevin de Rochefort, who published in Paris in 1671 an account of his travels in England, tells the following: "While we were walking about the town (Worcester) he asked me if it was the custom in France as in England that when the children went to school they carried in their satchel with their books a pipe of tobacco, which their mothers took care to fill early in the morning, it serving them instead of breakfast, and that at the accustomed hour every one laid aside his book to light his pipe, the master smoking with them and teaching them how to hold their pipes and draw in the tobacco."

In England at the time of the great plague it was reported that no one living in a tobaccoist's house fell sick of the disease. This caused a great demand for tobacco. Hearne says in his diary, "I remember that I heard formerly Tom Rogers, who was yeoman beadle, say that when he was a schoolboy at Eton that year when the plague raged all the boys of that school were obliged to smoke every morning and that he was never whipped so much in his life as he was one morning for not smoking."

A Garden of Milk.

The Milk garden of Frankfurt, reserved for the children of that aristocratic city, is in itself one of the most democratic of places. Here rich people who wish to be relieved for a time of the presence of their children send them, accompanied by their nurses. Here also poor people who can neither afford to devote their own time to their children nor hire separate nurses for them may bring their little ones, certain that from the garden nurses they will receive all the care and attention necessary to safety, health and amusement.

Private nurses of the rich people and public nurses of the working people are subject to a supervision sufficient to protect the children of all classes from cruelty and neglect. The only food furnished in the garden is milk, whose freshness and purity are assured, inasmuch as it is drunk warm from the mild eyed cows which occupy stalls on one edge of the field.
